World Looks Tough to Jaysee Grads Want More Training Before Taking First Fling at Life

By JOHN MCCLELLAND

Santa Ana Junior college graduates took a squint at the world today and decided it looks pretty tough. They're not ready to take a fling at it yet—most of them.

These boys and girls who have been through two years of junior college feel they need more training before they tackle the world.

And when they hit the world eventually, they aren't expecting the blow to turn it upside down, either. Or set it on fire. All the graduate of today wants is a job.

A different lot from the bunch that clamored and strutted its way into business in the days of the dazzling dollar 10 years ago.

The depression did it.

The depression did things to everybody.

Take June Holman, for one. June lives at 1206 1/2 North Parton. She's one of yesterday's graduates.

Looking for a job, June is.

But she realizes she has not the training for what is her chosen profession—commercial art. June wants to earn money so that she can go on—to college, to art school, perhaps.

"I don't feel too well satisfied with the education I've had," she said yesterday. "It hasn't been such that I can go out now and compete with others who are striving for the same goal."

Henrietta Rurup, another graduate, who lives at 2507 West Chapman in Orange, feels much the same way. She has a job—one made possible by her work in J. C., but she knows it will not satisfy her completely. She wants to go on to college, and she's one of the many that can't say just why. "I just feel that it's necessary. I don't expect I'd learn a great deal, but I want to be with the others."

Somewhere behind Miss Rurup's hesitant explanation (See GRADUATES, Page 8)

WOULD ALLOW RACING ON STREETS

Local Man Digs Up Law
Restricting Use of 25-Mile Limit

City streets now patrolled by vigilant motorists may soon become race-tracks.

Court action launched by Dr. Ralph Murane of Santa Ana may throw certain streets wide open as far as speed is concerned.

And if Police Judge J. G. Mitchell rules in favor of the defendant, zooming motorists can speed by those cops with impunity.

The particular case in question concerns only South Main street, but if the judge's ruling favors Dr. Murane, many other streets where speed limits have been established would be thrown open to high speed traffic.

Outlines Contention

Dr. Murane, acting as his own attorney, is basing his entire case on one point. He explains that the state vehicle code provides that a residence district, where the speed limit is set at 25 miles per hour, must have not less than 13 houses on one side of the street and 16 houses on both sides within a quarter-mile section.

The defendant claims that he was arrested for speeding on South Main at the crossing of Borchard street, where there are only 15 houses on both sides of the street.

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett, prosecuting the case, maintains that Dr. Murane's count of the houses is incorrect, and that the ambiguity of the law precludes determination of where a quarter-mile shall be measured.

Intersection

Blodgett further declared that when the case was tried last Wednesday, there even if the district was a 45-mile zone, Dr. Murane admitted going more than 30 miles an hour across intersections, which is a violation of the law. Dr. Murane is charged with crossing Borchard and Main at 40 miles per hour.

Judge Mitchell delayed judgment on the case so that he might go house-counting himself. He took the case under advisement and will deliver judgment tomorrow.

But however Judge Mitchell decides the issue, the case will not be settled, because today Dr. Murane said that if he is convicted he will appeal the case to superior court.

"There are precedents to this case," he declared, "and I shall make use of them. And I'll defend myself again in the higher court."

Air Show Urges Filling Cars to Save Parking Space

Double up, and make room for the thousands of visitors who will attend the big air show at the Martin Airport Sunday.

This appeal was broadcast today by General Chairman Dale Deckert of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of the colorful event.

Deckert urged all residents of Santa Ana and Orange county who plan to attend the air show to make every effort to double up passengers in automobiles to make more room for parking cars, particularly those from out of town.

Report Flight of Russians Via Pole To S. F. Under Way

OFF FOR U. S.—If the long-proposed hop of a Soviet plane from Moscow to San Francisco by way of the North Pole got under way today, as was stated in reports received at Edmonton, Canada, by the Royal Canadian corps, signal station, Sigismund Levanefsky (above), American-trained Russian pilot, probably is the man piloting the plane. He had been selected by Josef Stalin for the flight.

WOMEN BREAK MEN'S STRIKE

BIALYSTOK, Poland. (AP)—Threateningly swinging umbrellas and clubs, 500 wives and daughters today abruptly forced an end to a five-week strike of 700 workmen who had refused to accept arbitration proposals.

The men had turned down the management's offer to grant them half of their demands when their women folk appeared on the scene and threatened to beat their hold-out husbands and fathers.

The agreement was signed immediately and the men returned to their jobs.

Japanese Slay
90 China Bandits

TOKYO. (AP)—The Domei (Japanese) News agency reported today 200 Japanese troops had attacked Chinese bandits near Harbin, Manchoukuo, killing 90 and seizing many rifles in an eight-hour battle.

Indians Plan 'Sit-Down' If Wampum Demands Denied

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—The Yakima Indian tribe went on the warpath today for $2 a day wages, free hamburger three times a day, free tobacco and a 10 per cent "cut" on all souvenir postcard sales during Yakima's Pioneer days celebration July 3-5.

With their war-cry, "more wampum," the Indians threatened to stage a sit-down strike at the potlatch celebration around and lending color to the celebration at $1.50 per Indian per day.

The Yakimas, once one of Washington's most warlike tribes, staged a sit-down strike during a Seattle potlatch celebration two summers ago because they didn't get fresh hamburger for breakfast.

Yesterday's "walking delegates" were Chief Thunder Clap and Chief Kicking Horse.

Ray Clark, veteran hotel man in charge of celebration publicity, declared:

"The trouble with these Yaki-

METHODS OF OPERATION DESCRIBED

Laughton, Bache, Shick
Among Those Told at Committee Hearing

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Elmer L. Irely, treasury investigator, told congressional investigators today Charles Laughton, the actor, had "effected substantial reductions" in taxes by turning over his Hollywood earnings to a British corporation.

A short time before the treasury investigator laid before the committee the names of a group of prominent capitalists who, he asserted, escaped American taxes by forming foreign corporations. Irely said Laughton, described as an English citizen, set up a holding company in England and contracted with it to pay him a $20,000 salary in 1935.

At the same time, he said, Laughton handed over to the company all his earnings for that year from American moving picture activities. These totaled, he said, $190,280.

The earnings of the British company, the treasury official asserted, were entirely those which Laughton obtained from the American movie industry.

He added that the entire arrangement "may be perfectly legal." But it is just another illustration, he said, of methods used to get around American tax laws.

Roswell Magill, undersecretary of the treasury, remarked while committee members were asking about more names that George Westinghouse, jr., had established a corporation in the Bahamas, capitalized at $3,000,000.

He said one year Westinghouse might submit a tax return from Newfoundland, another year from British Columbia, and a third from Jamaica.

"There is no catching up with him," Magill said, adding that he could name a dozen similar instances.

GOVERNMENT 'RUNS OUT'

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontiers. (AP)—Frightened refugees from Bilbao brought out stories today of a Basque capital fortified with cobblestone barricades and hidden mines from a fight to the finish.

All bridges that led into the "new city" across the Nervion river are mined, the refugees said. The main streets are criss-crossed with the cobblestone barricades.

Two divisions of Basque defenders fell back to their rear guard positions west of Bilbao today to keep open the road for retreat to Santander as the government fled the never-before conquered northern capital.

Insurgents declared they held complete control of the eastern reaches of the Nervion river, Bilbao's avenue to the Bay of Biscay, and were launching the long-awaited pinching movement to drive the Basques from the western hills and enclose the city.

The official Basque delegation at Bayonne, France, announced the government of the semi-autonomous republic had left its besieged capital for another point in Basque territory. "The location of the new capital was being kept secret for military reasons."

Popular response to the new and enlarged Journal has been so great since May 1 when the program started, that this newspaper wishes publicly to thank the thousands of friends who are supporting the new bigger and better program. Gains in advertising and circulation have far surpassed expectations. Many have told us that The Journal at only 65 cents a month is now by far the best newspaper buy in Southern California and that we can count on them for continued and increasing support. Again, we say—Thank you, friends.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness seem to have changed in America to trouble, danger and the pursuit of safety, at least if you are trying for a peaceable existence in an industrial district. You may have a good job if you can get to it without someone bouncing a rock off your head. Your inalienable rights now appear to depend upon your ability to dodge a missile. However, with all our faults I have no intention of exchanging countries.

The Elks' national convention, dated for Denver some time next month, is also for does, so I am informed by an Elk who has been notified that more transportation accommodations will be required, as a number of "dears" have decided that if it's springtime in the Rockies for does, it is also springtime in the Rockies for does, so the old Buck is looking for more dough. Authoritative information is somewhat hazy. However, I expect an answer just as soon as the commanding general, Joe Harless, is available.

COPS DEMAND NEW RATING

Firemen, Police Will Launch Petition on Civil Service

Police and firemen of Santa Ana launched a new strategic move today in their drive to bring city employees under civil service regulations.

The firemen, organized into a local branch of the International Fire Fighters association, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, met yesterday to draft the new plans.

And today a petition demanding that the city council either establish civil service for the police and firemen or call an election on the proposal, was in the hands of City Attorney L. W. Blodgett for checking before being circulated throughout the city.

Chairman William Fox of the fire department civil service committee, told The Journal today the petitions will be circulated in about a week. He said Blodgett now is checking provisions of the petitions.

The firemen expect to secure more than 5000 names on the petitions, which will be circulated by picked members of the police and fire departments.

A new law passed by the state legislature gives the city council power to establish the civil service program for city employees. But, Fox said, if the council does not act on the matter, it will be mandatory for the councilmen to call an election so the people can vote on the matter, providing signatures of 15 per cent of the registered voters are secured on the petitions.

The program will be just as effective if the council passes on the matter or if it is adopted through an election, Fox said. After once being adopted, it would take a 75 per cent vote to repeal the program.

Long delay in the drive to get civil service for the police and firemen has been caused primarily because some members of the city council want to include all city employees in the program, Fox said. He said the policemen and firemen feel that it should be started with their two groups, and then other city employees added later.

STATESMAN DEAD — Death today claimed Gaston Doumergue, former president and twice premier of France, while on a visit to his native village of Aigues-Vives, France.

STEEL PEACE JOB BEGINS

CLEVELAND, Ohio. (AP)—Under a warning by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to "maintain the status quo," back-to-work movements in the seven-state steel strike today awaited action by the federal mediation board.

The three-man committee, headed by Charles P. Taft II, will start in Cleveland tomorrow its fact finding investigation of the widespread labor controversy.

Both sides in the bitter "battle of steel"—the costly struggle between John L. Lewis' C. I. O. and four independent steel companies over the question of signed labor contracts—remained silent on the all-important point of whether they will accept the federal board as an arbitration body with powers to hand down decisions and make awards.

The consent of both sides is necessary before the mediators can dictate any terms of settlement. Otherwise, the board can function only through "moral suasion."

Spokesmen for steel—Republica, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Inland and Bethlehem—and the C. I. O. promised "cooperation" but would avoid comment on how they will avoid the government peace-makers to go in a decisive settlement.

STORM FORCES AMELIA BACK

AKYAB, Burma. (AP)—Amelia Earhart, isolated by a dead wireless, battled a monsoon for two hours today before she brought her round-the-world monoplane back to safety here.

The tropical storm forced her back on a leg of her flight to Bangkok, Siam. She had landed here first at 12:34 p. m. after a 400-mile flight across the Bay of Bengal from Calcutta.

Taking off again, she was forced back because of a sudden breakdown of the Akyab direction-finding station at the height of the monsoon.

DEATH TAKES DOUMERGUE

Former President and Premier of France
Passes Suddenly

AIGUES-VIVES, France. (AP)—Gaston Doumergue, 73, former president and twice premier of France, died today in his native village.

The elderly statesman had lived in retirement among the vineyards of his countryside since he slipped quietly out of Paris Nov. 15, 1934, at the end of his second term as prime minister.

"Papa" Doumergue, as he was known throughout France, was elected to the presidency in 1924, the first Protestant to hold that office under the third republic.

Married At 67

Despite his nickname, Doumergue was a bachelor until he was 67. He was married to Madame Jeanne Doumergue, just 12 days before he left the Elysee Palace at the end of his presidential term in 1931.

In February, 1934, after the bloody "Stavisky" riots, the aging statesman was called to the service of his country once again to weld all parties except Socialists and Communists into a national government.

In November of the same year, however, he resigned the premiership when the cabinet split over his demands for more power.

Doumergue died suddenly shortly before 9 a. m., apparently from a heart attack.

May Have State Rites

He came to Aigues-Vives Tuesday from his home at Tournefeuille for a week's pilgrimage to the ancient middle class home of his family in this little village of southern France.

Doumergue will be buried beside his father and mother in the family vault amid his beloved vineyard.

Government officials in Paris indicated the cabinet would consider funeral arrangements today. Doumergue may be accorded a state ceremony, a military procession and a funeral oration by a member of the government.

CONDEMN MORE SABOTEURS

MOSCOW. (AP)—An undisclosed number of supposed counter-revolutionary wreckers have been arrested and condemned at Tashkent, in Asiatic Russia, it was disclosed today.

Seven officials of the Middle Asian railway shows have been convicted on charges of sabotage. Reports also referred to others, but were not clear as to the extent of the round-up of alleged saboteurs. Neither were they clear about what had become of the prisoners.

The railway newspaper, Gudok, charged the shops at Tashkent, an important city on the Middle Asian railway shows have been with criminal elements" who succeeded in paralyzing dozens of locomotives by impeding repairs.

AIR SHOW HERE TO EXCEL COAST'S BEST PROGRAM FOR BIG EVENT OUTLINED

Crowd of 30,000 Will Flock Into City to Witness Display

Special committees, appointed at a meeting yesterday afternoon, set to work today to make Santa Ana's first annual air show the biggest event of its kind ever held on the Pacific coast.

The committees had today and tomorrow to make final arrangements for the big air show, to be staged all day Sunday at the Martin airport, just south of Santa Ana.

The airport will be a bee-hive of activity all day, from dawn until dusk, but the official program will start at 1 p. m., when city and county officials will extend a welcome to the hundreds of pilots and the crowd of 30,000 expected to attend.

To Extend Welcome
President Rex Kennedy of the chamber of commerce, sponsor of the air event, will appear first on the program, giving a welcome on behalf of the chamber from the speakers' stand. Kennedy will introduce Mayor Fred C. Rowland, who will extend a welcome on behalf of the city. Chairman Willard Smith of the board of supervisors will speak briefly, and introduce members of the board of supervisors.

Eddie Lane will be in charge of the barbecue planned for 1500 pilots of Southern California, to be staged at noon. Floyd Martin of the airport will control airship traffic on the field by tower lights. William Jerome, Jr., was named at the meeting of the chamber aviation committee yesterday afternoon to supervise the barbecue.

Boy Scouts Aid
Constable Jess Elliott will be in charge of policing the grounds, assisted by National Guard members and Boy Scouts in uniform. Four members of the chamber of commerce, Oliver Lindemeyer, John Lutz, Dolph Kelsey and Leroy Burns, will give out guest badges and act as general supervisors for the show.

FLYING SLEEPER—This is the interior of the huge new Douglas sleeper, which will be displayed at the Santa Ana air show Sunday. The giant ship was built at a cost of more than $100,000. A limited number of persons will be admitted to inspect the ship.

More than 250 planes, the largest number ever assembled at one time on the Pacific coast, are expected at the show. These planes are valued at considerably more than a million dollars. The most expensive is the huge Douglas sleeper, American Airlines ship, which cost $161,000 to construct. This ship will be flown here by three Santa Ana men, Johnny Martin, pilot; Bill Cheney, Jr., co-pilot, and Bart Cox, superintendent of American Airlines. A limited number of persons will be permitted to examine the interior of this ship.

All Represented
With the announcement today that a Lockheed 12 will be at the show, a 100 per cent representation of all airplane manufacturers on the coast has been secured for the colorful event. This ship, which cost $70,000, is the most luxurious private craft in the world, according to Dale Deckert, general air show chairman. It belongs to the Lang Transportation company of Los Angeles, and will be flown here by E. C. McCord, chief test pilot for the Lockheed corporation.

Five girls will act as hostesses to the pilots who arrive. They are Agnes Brady, Virginia Scott and Jane King of the junior college, and Lolita Mead and Muriel Matzen of the chamber of commerce staff. William F. Croody and William Penn will supervise field conditions.

As each of the various planes soars into the air, a representative of the manufacturer will describe flying characteristics over the public address system. Happy Wentz, announcer, will officiate as master of ceremonies. As aviation celebrities arrive he will introduce them.

Food Markets to Adopt New Hours

Do your food shopping early! New store hours in Santa Ana's largest food markets were announced today and will go into effect tomorrow.

The Pay-Less Market, Joe's Grocery, Alpha Beta Stores and Empire Market will each be open from 8 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., except on Saturday, when they will remain open until later in the evening. The Grand Central Market will open all its departments at 8 a. m. and close at 6 o'clock. It also will observe later hours on Saturday.

FRIENDS PAY MARKEL NEW TRIBUTE TO DR. BALL CHIEF OF K. C. HERE

Santa Ana today paid its last respects to one of its builders. Friends, relatives and acquaintances of Dr. C. D. Ball gathered at the Smith and Tutthill chapel where last rites were conducted.

The flag on the public library, to which Dr. Ball had devoted many years of his life as president of its board, was at half mast today and yesterday. The library was closed from 10 a. m. to noon in honor of Dr. Ball's memory.

In a chapel crowded with those who came to pay respect, Dr. George Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke of the life, ideals and work of Dr. Ball.

"If the attitude of the individual makes for community spirit," he said, "then Dr. Ball must have been one of the major factors in the development of our civilization here. He was primarily a church man, and from religion he gathered the purposes of life and the attitudes which he carried through it."

Dr. Warner spoke of Dr. Ball's confidence in the great invisible forces of the universe and his faith in a God who opened the highway to further growth after death.

Mrs. Ball sang "Eulalia Land" as a musical prelude. Pall bearers were Dr. J. M. Burlew, Dr. H. A. Johnston and Dr. J. L. Beebe of Anaheim, Dr. John Wehrly, sr., Dr. C. C. Violett of Garden Grove, and Dr. Harry Zaiser, county hospital superintendent.

Profuse floral tributes were offered by friends, fraternal and other organizations with which Dr. Ball had been connected.

Interment at Santa Ana cemetery was conducted by Santa Ana lodge 241, F. and A. M.

MORE ABOUT TAX DODGING

American levies may be avoided through forming personal holding companies abroad.

He interlarded his testimony with details of specific transactions, bringing numerous questions from committee members as he listed individual names.

Irey said these men had formed foreign companies: Philip De Ronde, associated with several New York financial institutions, and a participant in various steamship financing operations.

Jules S. Bache, whom Irey described as "a prominent New York capitalist."

Jacob Schick, a former army colonel, and now a citizen of Canada.

Percy K. Hudson, a former member of the New York stock exchange.

Committee members leaned forward as Irey brought in the name of Schick, whom he described as a manufacturer of electric razors.

The name of Wallace Groves, New York financier, also was brought in.

Relates Schick Case
"Colonel Schick had served his country with distinction," Irey said. "He once drew a pension as a retired army officer. In 1935, he became a Canadian citizen."

"As a manufacturer of electric razors, he had a business which proved very profitable. These profits, under American laws, naturally were taxable."

In November, 1933, the witness said, Schick formed a Bahamas corporation, to which he assigned a large sum.

The tax on this transfer was $17,737, Irey said, "but if Colonel Schick had reported his income in a personal return the tax would have been much larger."

More Corporations
"Apparently not satisfied with this saving," the investigator continued, "Colonel Schick in December, 1935, formed three other Bahamas corporations to which he transferred 57,791 shares of Schick Dry Shaver corporation stock. This was practically all the stock outstanding."

Irey said De Ronde, former president of the Hibernian Trust company of New York, owed the government $33,000 in unpaid taxes and interest.

He testified Bache had formed personal holding corporations in Canada and transferred to one of them $13,000,000 in assets.

Bache, Irey said, "apparently acted on the honest conviction that he was within his rights."

Not Criticizing
"I cite the case not in criticism," he added, "but to illustrate that if the law as he interprets it makes these things possible, then it offers an inducement for persons who seek to avoid taxes."

Irey said Bache formed two Canadian corporations in 1930, transferring $13,000,000 in assets to one of them, the Wenonah Development Company, Ltd.

"This relieved Bache of the receipt of income which previously had been subject to American taxes," Irey continued. "This company apparently was very prosperous."

"In 1932, it made a $2,300,000 loan to Bache, and in 1934, he deducted from his income tax $225,000 representing interest to the corporation which he personally owned. This reduced his return to a non-taxable status."

Irey said Groves through several firms controls the United Cigar and Whelan Drug store chains and has been in litigation with the bureau of internal revenue for many years.

He said that in 1936 Groves

Dr. J. Luther Maroon was chairman of the program. Presentation of the awards was made by Dr. Harry E. Zaiser. Those receiving certificates were Robert Patrick, Mallard Dirks, David Springer, Kenneth Elliott, Harold Galbraith, Stephen McKenna, I. N. Kraus-haar and Gilbert Lee.

APPEAL JAGGED FENCE CASE

Santa Ana board of education today carried its appeal of the "jagged school fence" case to the superior court.

Forgy, Reinhaus & Forgy, attorneys for the school, asked a review of the judgment of Justice Kenneth S. Morrison, awarding $216.30 to Milton Ray Farney, 11, whose arm was cut when he fell on the a jagged fence at the Spurgan school last Sept. 21.

The boy sued through his father, Jasper Farney, a local builder, who was represented by Harry C. Westover and Jack J. Rimel.

Malt Shop Will Give Free Cakes

Free cakes will be given visitors to Thelma's Malt shop, 1404 South Main street, at the grand opening of the new establishment tomorrow, Mrs. Thelma Hall, the proprietor, said today.

Mrs. Hall is opening her malt shop in a new building with drive-in facilities, and will offer sandwiches, malts and ice cream.

owned Nassau Securities, Ltd., which had been organized the year before with a capital stock of $50,000.

On last Jan. 7, Irey testified, De Ronde made a sworn statement that he was "without any substantial funds" and sought to settle his obligation to the government by paying $1700 in installments.

Received Huge Sum
It was learned, he said, that on Jan. 6, 1937—just the day before he offered the compromise—he received $250,000 from the General Investment Company, which Irey said was an American firm for which De Ronde acted as agent for the sale of a subway in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

De Ronde, the treasury official asserted, instructed that the money be paid to Phillip De Ronde, Ltd., a Bahamas Island corporation, formed three months previously.

Describing the setting up of foreign corporations, Irey said this device was "one of the most dangerous methods" used to get around tax payments. He likened it to an "ambulance chasing racket."

"Not Justified"
He said it was conservatively estimated that in recent years 555 personal holding companies had been set up in four foreign areas. He said they were distributed in this manner: The Bahamas Islands, 94; Newfoundland, 202; Panama, 46, and Prince Edward Island, 243.

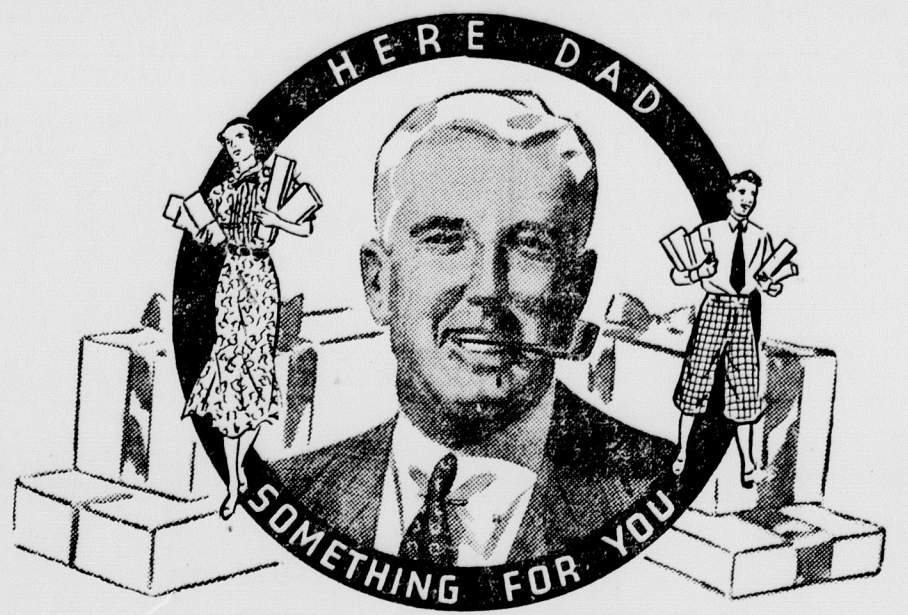

An examination of financial conditions in these places, Irey said, showed no justification for the establishment of so many corporations of that type.

Difficult to Check
He said it was difficult to check the precise character of the corporations because their directors and stockholders were "dummies."

Economic conditions in the places he named, Irey said, "clearly indicate" that a great majority of the corporations must have been formed for purposes of tax avoidance evasion.

At the conclusion of today's hearing the committee, in closed session, authorized Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) to ask the house appropriations committee for legislation for $50,000 for expenses.

Vice Chairman Harrison (D. Miss.) said the inquiry "may last a good bit."

HONOR STUDENTS WIN AWARDS AS 188 AT JAYSEE GET DEGREES

TOP HONORS GO TO JOHN RAMIREZ

Frances Was, Elbert Stewart and Betty Lee Honored

By ED VELARDE
One hundred and eighty-seven Santa Ana Junior college students received degrees—but only John Ramirez got $50 in cash plus a degree.

For "giving the greatest contribution to scholarship," Ramirez was awarded the $50 prize by the jaysee chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California junior college scholastic society. This is the first time it has been awarded.

Proud parents and friends of the graduates filled Santa Ana High school auditorium in commencement exercises yesterday afternoon. A total of 188 students—the largest class to receive degrees in the jaysee—participated in the exercises.

Led by Marshals
Garbed in black caps and gowns, the graduates completed two years of study at the college. Preceded by the faculty, the procession formed an impressive sight.

The huge arched doorway of the new auditorium formed a picturesque frame as the procession was led by Marshals Dick Phillips and William Semmacher.

White-tasseled caps interspersed with the typical black-tasseled ones in the line. These were worn by 27 students who had achieved distinctive honor the past year.

Other Cash Awards
Aside from Ramirez, three other members of the class won cash awards. They were Frances Was, Elbert Stewart and Betty Lee.

Miss Was and Stewart won $25 each for achieving high academic distinction with their high grade point averages. Robert L. Brown, local merchant, annually donates the money for this prize.

The Beta Gamma prize of $25 cash was garnered by Betty Lee. This is offered by the honor society bearing its name to the student judged most outstanding in extra-curricular activities.

All the prize winners are graduates of Santa Ana High school.

Dr. Henley, Speaker
Speaking on "Democracy Decides," Dr. W. Ballentine Henley, acting dean of the school of government at the University of Southern California, challenged members of the graduating class to decide issues of the day for themselves.

"We do not have a pure democracy," Dr. Henley stated. Instead, he qualified it as a "constitutional, federal, republican and representative government."

"We have misinterpreted the real purpose of democracy," the speaker emphasized. Dr. Henley illustrated his point by declaring Americans have characterized it by being vulgar, cheap and low.

"going around in shirt sleeves."

"We must pour into governmental service the best minds available," the speaker said. The reward they must be given will be a degree of security and recognition."

In presenting the class for certificates, Director D. K. Hammond paid a tribute to the students and faculty. "The class of 1937 can be complimented for the fine spirit of cooperation in the two years they have been in junior college," he said.

Director Hammond made a stirring tribute to the outstanding work accomplished by various members of the class. Citing the honors won by El Don, college weekly, the dean said:

"Editor Bob Swanson certainly deserves a great deal of credit." The dean also remarked on the debating, public speaking, dramatic, and literary, as well as scholastic accomplishments of the class.

Eleven of the graduates received permanent membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, California scholarship society. They were given certificates and pins with their Association of Arts degrees.

Those students making the society were Harvey Baker, Barbara Lee Berger, Gordon Bishop, Eunice Flier, Robert Forney, Helen Griggs, Neil McDaniel, John Ramirez, Elbert Stewart, Frances Was and James Franklin Davis.

Honors by Departments
For the first time honors for graduating students have been given according to departments. In 12 departments, 27 students received honors.

Those receiving high honors in the social science department were Brian Alexander, Franklin Davis, Robert Forney, Elizabeth Hill, Gordon Lockett and Elbert Stewart. Henrietta Rurup received honor in the secretarial practice department.

Life science honor winners were Harvey Baker, Rand Lewis, Alberta Metzger, Marian Elizabeth

RULES STATE MAY GOVERN SALARIES

Webb Gives Opinion On Pay For Employees On Civil Service

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—State Attorney General U. S. Webb has advised the state personnel board it has power to fix salary ranges for the state civil service employee classifications providing it has definite information particular departments have funds to meet any salary increases proposed.

His opinion was in reply to an inquiry by E. H. Christian of Oakland, personnel board chairman, as to just what powers the board has in fixing salary ranges and what authority it has to enforce such ranges.

Webb quoted section 5 of the state civil service act as authorizing and requiring the board to establish minimum and maximum salary limits for each grade in its classification of positions. He added:

"When the power to fix salaries is not otherwise provided for by law the personnel board has the exclusive power to fix minimum and maximum salary ranges for particular classes or grades of positions."

"In general, the appointing power, with the approval of the director of finance, may fix salaries within the ranges thus established."

YANG'S FAMILY IS ARMY Here's Tip for Mussolini

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Sin Wan Pao, Shanghai's leading Chinese-language newspaper, has advised Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini to follow the example of General Yang Sen if they want to increase the German and Italian populations and streamline their military training.

To prove its point, the paper published the record of General Yang, a leading war lord and commander of the twentieth army in Szechwan province.

"Only 40 years old, General Yang has a child for each year of his life," the newspaper said.

"Although 27 wives and concubines assist him in rearing his heirs the family has grown so big that the general often is puzzled over which is the eldest child."

"Being of his nature and education, General Yang has established complete military training for his offspring. It begins when a young Yang reaches the age of seven. With strict treatment by the time the child is 14."

"The family has an exclusive military camp. Military honors are easily available."

"When visitors come, the Yang children hold a military reception and march past the guests in strict review order."

der the auspices of the Soaring Society of America.

More than 100 pilots and some two score of gliding and soaring planes will be entered.

A glider ordinarily is capable only of coasting "downhill," once it is launched from a bluff or mountain ridge. A soarer, given good upward air currents, can remain aloft at the will of the pilot due to its large wing area.

Entries include Peter Riedel, German soaring ace, and Jonas Pyragius and Lieut. Bronius Os-kinis, Lithuanians.

New Jersey, with 11 pilot entries, leads the states in domestic contestants. Among others will be Jay Buxton of Hawthorne, Calif., and R. A. Bailey, Glendale, Calif.

TAX FIGHT LOST BY STANDARD

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals has ordered the Standard Oil Company of California to pay $252,048.68 in stamp taxes, plus $21,710.71 in interest, for a transaction arising from the reorganization of the company in 1926.

The company paid the tax in 1930 under protest when the collector of internal revenue assessed the amount in the transfer of 12,602,434 shares of capital stock to former stockholders of predecessor companies, the Pacific Oil company, chartered in Delaware, and the Standard Oil company, incorporated in California.

The company sued to recover the tax but Federal Judge Harold Louderback ruled adversely. Standard then appealed to the circuit court on the ground there were no taxable transactions, that the statute of limitations exempted the company, and that the tax assessment was incorrectly addressed.

SET DATE OF 'ALL-STAR' CONCLAVE

Notice has been received by Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor, that the dates for the first state 4-H All-Star convention have been set. This convention of outstanding older 4-H club boys and girls will be held in Berkeley, Oct. 13-17, inclusive.

Headquarters for the group will be the Claremont hotel and the convention will begin at 10 a. m., on Wednesday and end with breakfast Sunday, Oct. 17.

Local 4-H club leaders are making plans for the selection of the outstanding senior 4-H boy and senior 4-H girl to represent Orange county at this convention. These representatives will be selected on the basis of their scores, which will be made from a consideration of personal qualities, achievement in club work, size and quality of projects, and length of time in the 4-H organization.

The idea of having a senior All-Star group and giving this distinction to the outstanding 4-H boy and girl in each county was developed at the National Farm Bureau convention in Pasadena. At this convention 50 senior 4-H boys and girls from all over the state assisted in arrangements and in the convention program.

A meeting at this convention with Director B. H. Crocheron of the California Extension Service, the group decided on forming this All-Star honor organization.

Accuse Di Marzio Of Embezzling

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Federal authorities have held Nicholas Di Marzio, former pugilist, on a New York complaint charging him with embezzling $375 of "evidence money" which federal agents said was given for a drug purchase. Instead of aiding in entrapping criminals, Di Marzio was alleged to have taken a train west.

FEDERAL DEBT BOOSTED TO NEW HIGH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The federal debt leaped upward today to a record figure of $36,633,907,802.90.

Bookkeeping transactions in the treasury added $1,352,033,220 to the gross debt on June 15, the treasury statement showed today. The entries boosted the total of government obligations to a point more than $20,000,000,000 above the low of $16,026,087,087 on Dec. 31, 1930, and about $2,300,000,000 above the debt on the same day a year ago.

Veterans' bonus payments caused a half billion dollars of the June 15 debt increase.

The other $800,000,000 debt increase represented the amount of treasury notes sold recently in connection with customary June financing.

On June 15, with only a half month of the fiscal year remaining, the current year's deficit was $2,902,418,785.

DRAW POKER IS STILL LEGAL

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Draw poker, without the "house percentage" or the banker, is legal in California and has been so for 41 years, Attorney General U. S. Webb said yesterday.

He made the statement to explain a recent ruling on gambling in the state.

"My statement," he said, "was not a personal opinion. I simply called the public's attention to this supreme court decision which has been re-stated in the superior courts many times since."

Several days ago, Police Judge Elmo Morris, of Gardena, freed four men who came before him in gambling charges. Police officials asserted it would be difficult to obtain convictions on gambling charges in view of this interpretation of the law.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

In Wednesday evening's Journal in "The Merry-go-Round," Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen, national news commentators, have this to say concerning the group in Chicago and Washington who have pulled away from the Townsend organization:

"Townsend revolutionists who rebelled against the 'good doctors' opposition to supreme court reform are setting up a new organization built around the general welfare bill. They plan to take over most of the Townsend organization in Montana, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and California, where anti-supreme court sentiment is strongest."

When the writer read the above paragraph he began to put two and two together and pondering over certain news items which have come from Chicago and Washington, D. C. Thus far the only ones spoken of in news dispatches as "revolutionists" which the writer has noticed, were the ones who resigned from connection with the Townsend national organization and the only ones who have been mentioned as having a desire to set up an organization built around the general welfare bill are the group known as the Townsend steering committee who by resolution recently quoted in this column changed their name to the general welfare steering committee and asked the Townsend clubs of the United States to change their names to General Welfare clubs.

In the telegram quoted Tuesday in this column coming to Santa Ana from Dr. Townsend, the doctor said: "The conspiracy at headquarters seems to have been planned for over quite a period of time." The writer wonders if it may prove true that the group at Chicago called the "revolutionists" and the group in Washington known as the steering committee are hooked up together in the attempt to take over the Townsend clubs and supplant the Townsend organization. If so, the writer makes the prediction that they are going to be a badly disillusioned group. Some of their leaders may go wrong but the Townsendites as a whole are true blue and will remain loyal to their national leader, who has led the nation into having a conscience favorable to generous old age pensions supported by proper tax methods.

Perhaps by the time this is read the Townsend Weekly fresh from the press will be in the hands of the Orange County Townsendites and a more complete understanding of the whole unfortunate situation will be possible. But if the weekly should not appear as hoped for, then let the writer caution all Townsendites against becoming panic-stricken or unduly uneasy. Just bear in mind that Dr. Townsend is in Chicago and is getting our organization righted again. He won't fail the Townsendites and the Townsendites won't fail him.

The rest of tonight's column must be devoted to the announcing of various important meetings to be held in the near future. The first is to be recorded in a meeting of Santa Ana club No. 10 at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Gunderson at 708 East Fifth street. The meeting will be presided over by President R. E. Marks, who will conduct a short business session which will be followed by the serving of ice cream and cake. All are welcome, says Marks.

Santa Ana club No. 7 is meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Orange Avenue Christian church with President Peter Ben-thorn in the chair. Harry Hayward, publicity chairman, contacted the writer and requested this announcement. The speaker will be Walter R. Robb. The membership is urged to be present.

J. S. Freeman, program chairman of the Anaheim club, writes further particulars in regard to the Orange County Townsend mass meeting, being sponsored by the Anaheim club next Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the new Anaheim high school building on West Center street. The meeting will last from 2 to 6 p. m. with Dr. Harry Wilhelm in charge and Harry D. Riley as chairman of the afternoon program. Herbert F. Kenny will lead the community singing. The speakers on the program, include the Rev. S. L. Wingert of Yucaipa; W. R. Cogswell of San Bernardino and C. F. Alexander of Corona, according to the information given the writer. The entire 14th district Townsend board will be in attendance. Ida A. Freeman has been named program chairman. Doubtless the Townsendites will be present from all over the county, as the meeting promises to be a very interesting one.

Another mass meeting which is again being emphasized is the one being staged by all of the three Costa Mesa Townsend clubs in that city, Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Community church hall. District Manager J. H. Walsh will make the evening address. Every Townsendite in Costa Mesa is urged to be in attendance at this meeting.

METHODISTS RAP LIQUOR SYSTEM

New Policy For State Control Presented To Convention

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Committee for Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals reported yesterday to the Southern California Methodist Episcopal conference that the state liquor control system is "tottering," and offered a new policy of control which it said might be successful.

The report to the conference session at the First Methodist church also charged that "every promise" of prohibition opponents prior to repeal had been broken and that liquor is responsible for vice, corruption and debauchery among young persons.

"The state liquor control system in California has broken down repeatedly," said the report. "Our last legislature bolstered up this tottering system with a few more impossibilities. The trouble is that when enforcement is in the hands of a few politicians a breakdown and failure is inevitable and grave scandals occur."

Progress might be made in state control, the report said, if:

"1. The system was administered in the interest of social welfare without regard to revenues.

"2. All private profit be eliminated.

"3. All promotion be rigidly eschewed.

"4. The state offset the psychological weight of state sale by definite, intelligent temperance education, saying 'we sell alcoholic beverages because we believe some people will buy them from illicit sources, but we warn you against alcohol as an irritant, depressant narcotic drug which is damaging to the individual and to the state.'"

SLAYER OF WIFE WILL APPEAL

SANTA CRUZ. (AP)—Defense Counsel Stanford Smith announced he would appeal the wife-murder conviction of Allan D. Boggs, wealthy former resident of Detroit, Mich., and the first person since 1894 for whom a Santa Cruz county jury has decreed the death penalty.

The jury that last week convicted him of first-degree murder also decided he was sane.

Under California law, Boggs' conviction, which was not accompanied by a recommendation of leniency, makes it the duty of the court to sentence him to death. Superior Judge James Atteridge said he would impose sentence June 22.

Mrs. Sally Boggs, 37, victim in the slaying, was fatally shot April 17.

gets it, but your card of information did not reach him in time to get in the Thursday issue of The Journal. The Fullerton club and Buena Park club, as the communication states, joined together in having a pot-luck dinner in the Buena Park clubhouse Thursday evening. George Higgins, Los Angeles attorney, who spoke in Santa Ana last Saturday night, was the speaker. The writer can guess what a good time was enjoyed by those present.

AS GOOD AS AN INDIAN—This is a case where "seeing is believing" doesn't hold true. It's not a real Indian at all, but a Smoki, one of the group of white Prescott, Ariz., business men who make a yearly custom of perpetuating Indian dances, doing things in a big way at the 17th annual ceremony. He appears to be taking a good grip with his teeth on the harmless bull snake used in one of the ceremonial dances.

SCOUTS TO EAT TON OF BEEF

One ton of grain-fed steer beef! That will be part of the rations of Boy Scouts who go to Camp Rokill this year, according to Harrison White, Orange county scout executive.

In addition more than 1800 loaves of freshly baked bread will be consumed during the six-week stay of the young men at that mountain camp above San Bernardino.

Other rations will probably include a ton of watermelons, 150 gallons of ice cream, 200 field boxes of oranges, and about 1000 gallons of pasteurized milk.

In addition to this there will be more than 4000 pounds of staple groceries in the scout larder.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The board of tax appeals has determined the Huntington-Redondo Co., Los Angeles, was not deficient in 1932 income taxes. The bureau of internal revenue has assessed the company $7268.

LIFT BAN ON GOLD

AMSTERDAM. (AP)—Netherlands yesterday lifted the restrictions on the exportation of gold which have been in effect since Sept. 30, 1936. The Bank of Netherlands, acting under authority of the minister of finance, stated it was prepared to allow unrestricted exemptions from the export prohibitions laid down on gold coins and bullion by royal decree.

RATE HEARING IS DELAYED

Awaiting action by the governor that may solve the trucking tax problem facing farmers and co-operatives, the railroad commission rehearing in Santa Barbara scheduled for this week has been postponed until Aug. 3, R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange county farm bureau, announced today.

If the governor signs two bills which have passed the legislature, Flaherty said, co-operatives and individual farmers will be exempt from the railroad and board of equalization levies which apply primarily to commercial trucking companies. This final approval will make unnecessary the rehearing at which farm bureau federation leaders planned to seek reversal of a commission ruling.

GIRL FORGER ON PROBATION

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Twenty-year-old Elfrieda Schull was on two years' probation today because she was accustomed to "seeing millionaires throw their money about recklessly."

Convicted of forging her name to charge account orders, obtaining $2500 in jewelry and then selling or pawning it for $210, spending the sum in three days, the girl was given probation by Superior Judge William Tell Aggeler after reading the probation report, which said in part:

"For four years this girl lived in Palm Springs where she saw millionaires throwing their money about carelessly. She and her parents, who are caretakers of an estate there, had to eke out an existence in the highly expensive community on $150 a month. She should not be blamed too greatly for her desire to spend money in what, to her, were large sums, once she yielded to the temptation."

WEBB TO PROBE PEDRO DEATH

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Attorney General U. S. Webb said here his office will have to make a careful investigation before taking any action on San Pedro longshoremen's request for prosecution of Police Officer W. H. Redding, slayer of Norman Gregg, longshoreman.

"I understand there was an investigation locally by a coroner's inquest and subsequently by the grand jury and that no charges will follow," Webb said. "In view of this situation, my office will have to give thorough consideration to the charges before we can answer the request to prosecute. That consideration has not been had."

Redding shot Gregg after they fought as the outgrowth of a San Pedro cafe disturbance. Longshoremen charge the shooting was unjustified and local authorities "whitewashed" the matter.

GRAND JURY DROPS FILM PARTY CASE

Refuses to Indict Man Accused By Girl of Attacking Her

LOS ANGELES. (P)—The county grand jury will not investigate further the charges of Patricia Douglas, 20, film extra, that she was beaten and attacked at a film salesman's party last May 5, John E. Bauer, foreman, said today.

The jury declined to indict David Ross, Chicago film salesman, identified by Miss Douglas from a photograph as the man who attacked her, after he had made a general denial of her charges late yesterday.

Ross told the jury he had danced with Miss Douglas a time or two and had got her to introduce him to Roland Young, screen actor, but "took one of the first buses back to town, arriving at the hotel near 12:30 a. m." Miss Douglas had said she was attacked about 12:30 a. m. in an automobile at a ranch near Hollywood, where the "forty-niners" party was held.

Two parking lot attendants, Asa Carter and Clement Soth, testified they saw a man follow her to the automobile, but said Ross was not the man.

Vincent Coniff, casting director for the Hal Roach studios, denied Miss Douglas' statement that more than 100 extra girls had gone to the ranch in the belief they were to appear in a western picture. He said the girls were informed they were not to take parts in a picture, but were to serve as "atmosphere" in their Spanish and cow-girl costumes and as hostesses at the party for the visiting delegates.

Oval Contour Can Be Effected

Today, according to Eddie Senz, Hollywood make-up man, some of the most beautiful screen faces are the result of the ancient art of make-up. And a face can be worn on the street because naturalness can be emphasized as well as artificiality. In fact, make-up improves on nature in many instances.

"Many girls," says Mr. Senz, "regard their faces in their mirror and wish that God had given them a different shaped mouth, larger eyes and a different nose, ears or hair. A girl used to believe that the only thing to do with her face was to make the best of it. Now, thanks to make-up, she needn't harbor thoughts of 'taking the veil'."

"Make-up as an art is neither so vague or complicate a problem as women believe. Common sense is the basis of all good make-up. Colors must harmonize. For instance, women with light colorings should use pastel shades, and applying vivid colors which contrast with their natural light background.

"In the case of the woman with vivid coloring, dark eyes, black hair, brilliant mouth—she would appear ridiculous if used pastel shades to accentuate these colorings. Her tones are deep and necessitate deep colorings of the same value.

"Powder, rouge, eye shadow and lip rouge must all conform in total value with one's natural coloring. If you follow this plan, never will you be at a loss in the selection of your proper color.

"The perfect face is undoubtedly one of oval contour. The length in such a face is naturally greater than its breadth in the ratio of about 4 to 3. Faces vary in structure, however, so it is often necessary to create the illusion of an oval face by the skillful application of cosmetics."

If the face is too long, he says, you can make it appear shorter by emphasizing the things that give it width. You can arrange your coiffure so that soft rolls or curls drop down on your forehead or so there is some fluffiness around or behind the ears. Then extend the eyebrows slightly, straightening them a little, if necessary, so the tips point toward the temples.

OWES $102,968 TAXES

WASHINGTON. (P)—The board of tax appeals has determined that Charles H. Cobb of Altadena, Cal., was deficient $102,968 in estate taxes as executor of Carrie E. Cobb. The bureau of internal revenue had assessed him $205,054.

HE'LL GO FREE—David Ross, Chicago film representative (wearing straw hat), will not be indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury, which investigated charges of Patricia Douglas, film extra, that he attacked her during a "49'er" party staged by a film company on a ranch for sales representatives. Ross gave an alibi, proving he was not at the party at the time Miss Douglas said he attacked her. In the above picture Ross is being questioned by newspapermen.

Salad Hints Improve Summer Diet

By JUDITH WILSON
When you wonder what you should serve, consider a salad. Whether it is for luncheon, dinner, supper or a pick-up snack in the afternoon or evening, there is salad that is just right. When the thermometer soars, everyone enjoys crisp green things.

Keep your salads light and cool when they are served as an accompaniment, but make them as nourishing as you wish when the salad is the main course.

Luncheon Egg Salad
Line a chilled salad bowl with crisp lettuce leaves. Shell and slice 12 hard cooked eggs and peel and slice 5 medium-sized, mild onions. Arrange the onion and eggs in alternate layers. Over them pour a dressing made from 4 tablespoons salad oil, 2 tablespoons sharp vinegar, 1½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 tablespoon minced parsley. Sprinkle the top of the salad with ¼ cup grated American cheese or a little crumbled Roquefort. Six servings.

Frozen Fruit Salad
Prepare a cooked dressing as follows: Blend 1 cup sugar and 4 teaspoons cornstarch. Add 1 cup pineapple juice drained from 1 large can pineapple rings and cook in a double boiler until the mixture is thick and clear. Pour slowly over the slightly beaten yolks of 2 eggs. Add 6 tablespoons orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and a few grains salt. Return to the double boiler and cook until the mixture has reached the consistency of custard. Chill.

Now combine 1 cup sliced strawberries, ½ cup pineapple drained and cut in pieces, 8 medium marshmallows cut into small pieces and a few grains salt. Whip ½ cup cream until stiff and fold into 1 cup of the cooked salad dressing and add to the fruit mixture. Fill small paper cups with the salad mixture, place in the refrigerator tray and freeze until firm. Remove the paper cups from the tray and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with the remaining dressing.

Tomato Jelly Rings
Put 4 cups canned tomatoes, 2 peeled, sliced onions, 1 diced, seeded green pepper, 2 cups diced celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cloves, and add 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin that has been softened in ¼ cup cold water and stir until dissolved. Put into individual ring molds and chill until firm. When ready to serve, unmold on salad greens and fill the centers of the rings with avocado that has been diced and seasoned with lemon juice, a dash of onion juice and salt. Pass French or Russian dressing and serve tiny cheese biscuits as an accompaniment.

Sunshine Is Necessary In Foods

By CLAUD CHRISMAN, M. D.
After a long, hard, dark winter, we all feel better when the sun comes out and shines brightly. Our energy increases and with it a sensation that all is now well with the world. After a few warm sunny days we become languid and lazy and say we have spring fever. We feel all right, but do not want to do anything. It isn't the sunshine, it is just that we want to do nothing but enjoy it.

It is our natural feeling that we cannot live and enjoy good health without an abundance of sun. It does do us great good but we can get along without it, if our diet is adequate.

The Eskimos, who see very little sunshine, live long and happily and enjoy good bone structure, have almost perfect teeth so long as they eat their native foods of fat, oils, fish livers, kidneys and blubber, but when they turn to the foods of civilized man, their teeth decay and they develop all the conditions due to lack of sunlight.

Mules kept down in mines all their lives and seldom see daylight show no bad results from this lack. We, the so-called civilized humans, can exist very well without direct sunlight, providing the foods we eat are raised in the sun. They store up the vitamins from the earth and the sun rays and give them healthful qualities.

One of the great troubles with our present raising of fruits and vegetables is that so many of them are taken from the ground and picked from trees before maturity. They ripen in warehouses and freight trains with the result that they lack many of the elements necessary for our well-being because they do not receive sunlight for the ripening process. We need a little more of nature's provisions in our civilization.

DIG IN SNOW FOR SEVEN BODIES

Expect to Reach Plane Victims on Nevada Peak Saturday

SALT LAKE CITY. (AP)—Men with shovels and picks chopped away today at glacial snow and ice they believe separate them by but a few feet from the frozen bodies of seven airplane passengers killed in a mountain crackup last December.

Inside the bashed-in cabin of the Western Air Express liner at the base of a 1000-foot cliff in the Wasatch mountains 25 miles southeast of Salt Lake City, they whittled at snow that had hardened in a frigid six months to coarse, opaque ice.

"Some of the bodies may be in that cabin, under the snow," said Search Director Frank Eastman of Western Air Express, the concern which owned the plane.

Other workers chopped outside at hardened snow that only two days ago melted sufficiently to reveal the presence of the cabin. Several bodies probably are buried in the 30-foot drifts around and beneath the wreckage, diggers said.

In the belief several of the bodies will be recovered not later than tomorrow, searchers lowered on a winch from the top of the cliff, half a dozen large sacks in which the dead will be placed.

"It will be necessary to haul the bodies and wreckage to the cliff top in order to get them off the mountain," explained Eastman.

Danger of snowslides and rock avalanches hugh over the men as they worked.

Some of the "kiddies" seem to have a much happier time getting out of school than they did getting in it. Maybe it's just the normal relaxation which comes with the vacation period. I used to look forward to packin' the books home with more pleasure than I did packin' 'em back again.

And the day was saved by encountering a friend, who quizzed about the apparent gloom surrounding my drooping physiognomy. So I had to come through with a confession that the day had not up to that time yielded anything spectacular in the way of paragraphs. The rest of the day was brighter by having come in contact with a charming personality, and the encouragement was enough to "carry on" for the remainder of the afternoon.

Down to Ed. Summers' beach home by invitation and inclination. It's located just south of Laguna at a point called the Arches. You get down to it and then up out of it. Lovely spot with the waves slashing at the coast line. After dinner I was inveigled into a shuffleboard game, and it is the first time I was ever able to play without getting seasick. The game was played on a cement court.

Went over to see Forrest Jones. He's planning to make a vacation invasion of the old home state—Oklahoma—and I just wanted to

NO JURY YET IN FEUD TRIAL

ALTURAS. (AP)—Superior Judge Ferdinand Jamison said he probably would find it necessary today to call for new veniremen to complete a jury to try Harry French, 30, in the first murder trial in this Siskiyou mountain country in more than 10 years.

With the jury selection still unfinished, only five of the original panel of 140 remained to be questioned.

French, member of an influential and long established Modoc county family, has been accused of the fatal shooting of Claude L. McCracken, 46. Sheriff J. C. Sharp ascribed the shooting to what he said was bitterness arising from a rivalry between newspapers operated by McCracken and by the French family.

find out if arrangement had been made to properly manage the store while he was away. He said he wouldn't need me, but it was nice to try and find out. And then I noticed "Milt" Johnson, and there wasn't any use of my trying to find out in the first place.

I have a friend who is also in the orange business and is having the packing house make the first pick. He is as nervous as a June bride. If the shock isn't more than he can stand he is to report to me can compare notes. If his returns are no better than mine may the Good Lord help the notes.

Politics makes strange bedfellows, is an old statement. Political issues do the same thing. Congressman Sheppard was elected by the Townsend vote, at least that is the Townsend claim, and now the congressman breaks with the pension advocate over the supreme court issue. So far no chemist has been able to find an oil that will make politics run smoothly all the time.

When Joe Scott of Los Angeles talked to the local Knights of Columbus it was along definitely anti-communistic lines. Scott is an attorney, but he was a hod-carrier first, and he knows the labor as well as the professional viewpoint of American life. More than that he knows its history and its opportunities. He is dynamic in his opinions and appreciative of what his country offers. In free privileges it has no equal. Scott does not palliate in his denunciation of subversive movements which have their purpose the removal of freedom and opportunity. The organization he addressed is similarly committed.

MORE ABOUT GRADUATES

tion seemed to lie a desire to be among those who are getting the best of training for the future.

Gordon Lockett of 2036 North Broadway is going to Redlands university next fall. He is practical in his outlook.

"In order to compete with others," he says, "you must have a college education. I think most of us want to go on to more college for purely ulterior motives. We think it will enable us to earn more money later on."

Jack Wallace, 1621 Spurgeon, will enter as a junior college transfer at Stanford in the fall quarter. "I'm not sure yet just what I want to do," he explains, "but I know that whatever it is I'll need a liberal education which I don't have now. Maybe I'll go into law. I feel like the rest of them that I'd have a better chance of succeeding with a background of full college training behind me."

On Their Own

"What now?" then, is solved for most of the class of '37, but still there are some who have come to the end of their school days and by choice or necessity go "on their own."

They are the really sober minded ones. June Holman, looking for that job so that she can go to art school, is not a little afraid of the future. "I wish it was 1926 again," she says wistfully, "there don't seem to be so many jobs now."

But Henrietta Rurup, who already has a job, doesn't even remember the hey-days of 1926. "I've been working in the placement bureau over at school, and I know from the number of calls that come in that there must be lots of jobs."

Perhaps there are. Still one can't forget that there are many men today who can admit that they earned more when they first came out of college than they do now. The college man or woman—whether from Santa Ana or Antioch—knows that. A talk with any one of them will reveal that there doesn't exist a feeling that the world owes them success.

The college graduate of 1937 seems to expect nothing more than the chance his father had to make his own way.

POLICE HEAD ADMITS S. F. CORRUPT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Theodore J. Roche, president and patriarch of the San Francisco police commission, admitted today that "in the last two or three months" he had come to believe corruption existed in the San Francisco police department.

Roche, a member of the commission for 25 years, was questioned four hours last night by the grand jury, seeking evidence of police graft. The grand jury discussed with Roche tapped telephone conversations identified by Special Investigator Edwin N. Atherton as conversations between policemen and various persons in the McDonough Brothers bail bond offices.

Peter P. McDonough, head of the bail bond firm, has refused to testify before the grand jury on the ground he might incriminate himself. After the session Roche declared he was "ignorant of graft or raid tipoffs" by police "up to the last two or three months."

"Now my opinion is changed," the commissioner said. "The tapped conversations have convinced me that policemen have been dealing corruptly with McDonough Brothers."

He said the commission planned to discharge officers enmeshed in the wire tapping conversations. He agreed it might be a "good thing" if the commission personnel were changed at regular intervals. Deputy Attorney General William F. Cleary, directing the grand jury's investigations, made it clear that there was no question of Roche's integrity.

McCormick Lines To Sign With U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Officials of the McCormick Steamship company, owners and operators of the Pacific-Argentine-Brazil line, said today a contract with the newly created United States maritime commission for a one-year $350,000 operating subsidy would be signed Saturday.

Ira L. Ewers, attorney for the line in Washington, D. C., said a provision of the contract called for development of a long range program for operation of the Pacific-Argentine-Brazil line to South America and the West Indies, and included construction of new ships.

NAMES S. F. CONTROLLER

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Harold J. Boyd, acting assessor, has been nominated by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi to the post of city controller, made vacant by the recent death of Leonard S. Leavy. The board of supervisors was expected to confirm the appointment to the $10,000 position.

U. S. 'LITTLE CABINET' TO FETE F.D.R.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The biggest "little cabinet" in history will entertain President Roosevelt tonight at the Maryland estate of Summer Welles, under-secretary of state.

The "little cabinet" consists of assistant secretaries and other officers of similar rank. The group has an informal organization, whose membership has risen to 31 by appointment of Louis A. Johnson as assistant secretary of war.

Reed Only Officer The club's only office is held by Solicitor General Stanley Reed, the tall attorney who represents the United States before the supreme court. Reed said, however, he is not sure what his title is.

The group meets occasionally to talk shop over a Dutch treat lunch.

Many important young members of the administration belong to the "little cabinet."

Jackson, Howes Members

Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general who argued before congressional committees for the President's court bill and the wage and hour measure, is a member. So is W. W. Howes, who presented the postoffice department's attitude on mail deliveries in the steel strike area.

The chief liaison men between the White House and congress—slim Charles West of the interior department and chunky Joseph B. Keenan of the justice department—also belong.

The only woman in the group is Miss Josephine Roche, Colorado mine operator who became assistant secretary of the treasury.

NEW INTEREST BILL FEARED BY F. D. R.

Emergency Measure On Farm Loans Termed
As 'Disturbing'

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt termed "disturbing" today a bill passed by the house to continue an emergency 3 1/2 per cent interest rate on federal bank loans and reduce the rate on other farm mortgage obligations. He said in a letter to the senate banking committee that the legislation would cost the treasury more than $40,000,000 a year. Mr. Roosevelt said administration efforts were being directed toward balancing the budget and added that "new taxes alone" would meet deficits resulting from extra appropriations or obligations.

Letter to Jones
The letter was written to Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee, whose bill, passed June 7 by the house, was under consideration by the senate committee.

Congress and the administration, he said, undertook in 1933 to stop wholesale foreclosures and failures by refinancing the debts of home owners, business men, municipalities and others as well as farmers, and also to provide extensions for principal and interest payments.

Only Group Benefited
Farmers were the only group to be given a temporary reduction in interest rates on land bank mortgages, he noted.

At the time the legislation was passed, he added, "no one thought and no reasonable person should think today that the government of the United States should permanently subsidize these borrowers by an annual grant or gift caused by legalizing an abnormally low rate of interest."

He contended it was "not reasonable" to insist that rates of 4 per cent on first mortgages for farmers and 5 per cent on second mortgages were "unreasonably high."

Fears For Income
W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit administration, told the committee that proposed reduction from 5 to 4 per cent in the rate on outstanding land bank commission farm mortgage loans raised the possibility the farm mortgage corporation would be unable to meet its obligations from its own income.

The President wrote the issue "relates not only to farm loans but also to monies lent by the Home Owners Loan Corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Public Works Administration and other agencies."

Myers told the committee farm prices have improved steadily since 1933 when the FCA was organized. Less than 10 per cent of the farmers would benefit from the legislation, he contended.

Call Hotel Strike Peace Meetings

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Hotel strikers and hotel operators called separate meetings today as the unions planned ways of broadening the strike which employers estimated had cost the hotels $2,925,000 in gross business since it was called 48 days ago.

Representatives of the 3500 strikers gathered to meet with the advisory committee of the San Francisco Central Labor council.

Employers said they would meet to discuss any proposal that might be made by the strikers after today's conference.

Radios Put on Balloons Will Gather Weather Data

BURBANK, (AP)—In the near future, transport planes will get their weather information indirectly from one pound radio sets sent up daily to an altitude of 15,000 feet on small fabric hydrogen balloons.

This new weather gathering apparatus, product of two California Institute of Technology scientists, L. E. Wood and Capt. A. C. Maier, employs an automatic transmitter that records into a graph at the airport. It charts temperature, humidity and barometric pressure,

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—New offices of the California unemployment reserves commission will be opened in Long Beach and San Diego, James L. Matthews, chairman, announced.

"Deputies in the two cities not only will answer questions regarding the act and assist employers with their reporting forms," said H. R. Harnish, regional supervisor for Southern California, "but will prepare for the time when benefits are paid out of the unemployment reserves fund."

Benefits ranging from $7 to $15 a week will be paid shortly after next Jan. 1. Deputy Registrar A. W. Sawyer is assigned to the Long Beach office and William Dougherty to the one in San Diego.

Prepare to Meet 'Iron-Lung' Case

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—A hospital on wheels is being prepared here for Frederick B. Snite, Jr., living in an "iron lung" as he travels from China to his Chicago home.

The rolling hospital, converted from a railroad sleeping car, will be awaiting at a waterfront pier when the ocean liner President Coolidge arrives Friday.

Snite, unable to breathe naturally because of infantile paralysis with which he was stricken while traveling in China, will be transferred from the ship to the car, and the journey home will continue.

'Be Dumb If You Want To Be Happy' Say Physicians

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The dumber you are, the better off you are, a group of nerve specialists told the American Medical association and cited cases to support their praise of stupidity.

Specialists on nervous disease of the body cited results of a group of operations on humans and experiments on the higher apes in which large portions of the pre-frontal lobes of the brain, lying just back of the forehead, were removed.

These lobes, they explained, are the centers of intelligence and reasoning but, apparently, also are the areas where many nervous disorders run out of control.

Broker's Story
Dr. Ward C. Halstead of Chicago told of a stock broker who led a much happier and more successful life without a large chunk of his pre-frontal brain area, which was removed because of a brain tumor. Afterward the broker went temporarily insane but recovered and made a success of managing a gold mine. Later he became a salesman for a line of goods about which he knew nothing, sold $250,000 the first week and has continued that average ever since. Dr. Halstead said. The only complaint has come from his wife, who believes he should worry more about the things he used to worry about.

Worry Decreases
Dr. James W. Watts and Dr. Walter Freeman of Washington, D. C., reported similar results in decreased worry and improved mental workings in 20 extremely nervous and suicidal patients after operations on the pre-frontal lobes. The operation was performed intentionally to secure just that result, they declared, and it has proven successful.

Violent fears and rages in monkeys and chimpanzees have been similarly removed with the surgeon's knife. Dr. Carlyle F. Jacobson, Dr. G. Finch and Dr. J. L. Kennedy reported. After large areas of the lobes were removed, the animals did not go on the rampage they exhibited before operation, they said.

Navy Asks Bids On Four Vessels

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The navy has invited bids from private ship builders for construction of four destroyers, representing half of the 1937 program for new ships of that type.

The other four will be constructed in navy yards in accordance with law.

The sealed proposals from private ship contractors will be opened at the navy department on Aug. 4.

and ENDS

PAUL
WRIGHT

Notice of intention to wed: Gordon Mallett, 22, R. D. 2, Box 253, Santa Ana; Esther May Coates, 19, Garden Grove.

Mallett is the former Saint baseball pitcher; Miss Coates, an athlete herself, is the sister of Jim Coates, softball pitcher who deserted the Stars for Visalia of the San Joaquin Valley league this year. . . . Esther and Gordon will walk up the aisle in Garden Grove tonight. . . . Brother Jim Coates carries an "el" in his name "because so many people spell it that way."

Reese (Pinky) Greene, who has been doing a fine job of coaching down at Santa Ana High for the past three years, says he and the missus will vacation in and around the old home town, rather than take another out-of-state excursion. "I haven't known what Santa Ana looks like in the summer," comments the head basketball and track coach of the preps.

Diamond dust: Chico Sabella, ace of the Oilers' mound staff, has allowed only one earned run in 51 innings of pitching at Huntington Beach. . . . Although his defending champs have white-washed Santa Ana 3-0 and 6-0 in their only two meetings, Joe Rodgers has deep respect for the co-leading Stars.

"Don't sell them short, Jimmie," writes Rodgers to Sports Editor Heffron of the Anaheim Bulletin. "They have some brilliant players in Denney, Koral, Comstock, Smith, Coats, Young and Morrill, and a team with such experienced talent makes few mistakes."

Our crystal-balling was temporarily interrupted last week when the office boy hid the little round thing.

We're back again tonight to predict that—
Santa Ana will trim Anaheim in the Municipal bowl!
Huntington Beach will defeat Riverside!

Westminster will lose after a fight at San Bernardino!
Colton's Reds (blast them!) have folded up, turning in their suits. Orange can't lose tonight.

Bad news for the Grand Central Market nine of the City league: Dr. Markings and Hanson, who draws cartoons as a business and pitches as a hobby, will leave tomorrow for a National Luther league convention in Minneapolis, and while he is away Larry Owens' grocery boys will have important postponed games to play with the Carpenters and Montgomery Ward.

CLEVELAND'S NINE SLIPS

Indians Falter on Road, Losing 10; 'Diz' Dean Loses; Red Sox Win

Associated Press Sports Writer
There's no place like home for those Cleveland Indians. Send them on the road and they flounder around like a basket full of freshly caught fish.

For three years, they've had about the strongest club, on paper, in the American league. Year after year, the "experts" have rated them a top pennant contender. Yet, that habit of leaving their winning ways in Cleveland has shut them out of the pennant chase each time.

So far this season, they haven't changed a bit. Only last week, they concluded a successful home stand with 11 victories against eight defeats. At one time during the Cleveland stay, they were as high as second place.

The schedule forced them to pack up and take to the road, and, unfortunately, their first stop was at Yankee stadium. They landed in New York Tuesday and since then dropped three straight to the Yankees, losing a daffy 9-7 affair yesterday in which the Yankee homer hitters came from behind with a five-run spurge in the seventh.

Those three defeats in a row, giving them a road record of six wins against ten setbacks for the year, have made their hold on fourth place a shaky one at best. And they're on even more of a spot now that Tom Yawkey's Boston Red Sox are getting hot.

The Sox apparently have hit their stride. Opening their Boston stand against the supposedly surging White Sox, they proceeded to take the Chicagoans apart in four straight games.

Young Jack Wilson and old Rube Walberg turned in a pair of tight pitching performances yesterday to give the Sox both ends of the Bunker Hill day doubleheader, 5-2 and 3-2, the latter going 10 innings. The twin win not only boosted the Sox over the .500 mark for the first time since June 8, but put them within a game of the bottom of the first division, now occupied by the Indians.

Only one other game in the big leagues got by old man weather on yesterday's program, as the rest of the American league and all but a single National league contest was rained out.

Dizy Dean, admittedly not feeling his best, was belted over by the Phillies' power hitters in the lone National league contest, and the Cardinals went down 13-7. Dean gave up 11 hits in the seven innings he worked as the Phils took their first triumph over the gas house gang this season.

Missouri Suspends Ali Baba After Flooding Marshall

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Everett Marshall of La Junta, Colo., was still the world's heavyweight champion in Missouri today despite his being knocked out by Ali Baba in a title bout here last night.

The Kurd was disqualified for his tactics, suspended indefinitely by Governor Smalley of Kansas City, chairman of the Missouri athletic commission, and fined $100.

Clay Court Title Play Resumed; Riggs Is Favored

CHICAGO, (AP)—Hopeful that rain would not hold up the tournament, officials of the 27th National Clay Courts championship ordered all courts at River Forest Tennis club in use today for fourth round singles play and the opening of doubles competition.

Rain washed out the cards Wednesday and Thursday. Bobby Riggs, Los Angeles, defending champion and favorite, was matched against William Murphy of Chicago in the singles. Riggs and Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, are seeded first in the doubles ratings.

LOUIS QUOTED AT 3 TO 1

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, (AP)—Principals and promoters marked time today in their preparations for the world's heavyweight title battle Tuesday night between Champion James L. Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis.

Both fighters rested at their respective camps. Braddock, who scaled 198 after a workout yesterday in which he belted his sparring partners mercilessly, indicated he would spend the day quietly, even foregoing golf. Louis was expected to take in a motion picture show at Kenosha, Wis.

Braddock will box six rounds tomorrow and four or five Sunday in his training wind-up. Louis also will go through drills on both days before packing to await his shot at the championship.

On the promotional end, practically all arrangements have been completed. The 22-foot ring in which Louis lost to Max Schmeling in New York has been set up directly over second base on the White Sox playing field in Comiskey park.

Mike Jacobs, associated with Joe Foley in promoting the contest, said $70,000 was "in the bank" in advance ticket sales and that he still was confident the fight will sell out all 80,000 seats. He said ringside sale has been particularly heavy, and looks for a big Chicago sale tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

Most observers, however, believe the fight will draw between 60,000 and 70,000 fans, with a gate of not more than $800,000.

Braddock remained calmly confident he will win, remarking that "if he knocks me down, I'll get up." The betting odds remained at 3 to 1 on Louis.

The weighing in ceremonies will be held Tuesday noon at a downtown hotel. Both fighters are requested to report at Comiskey park by 8 o'clock Tuesday night, with promoters—in the event of rain—holding the right to put the title contest on any time after that hour, regardless of radio contracts.

If rain prevents holding the contest, it goes over to Wednesday night.

SAVAGE, LOPEZ SIGNED HERE

With both "Daniel Boone" Savage, giant mountaineer from Kentucky, who says he's the world champion "scuffler," and Vincent Lopez, former world champion, signed for early appearances, the Orange County Athletic club today was ready to match one of the other with the winner of the Hans Steinke-Dr. Hall feature here Monday night.

Although Lopez recently defeated Steinke and Wednesday night beat Dr. Hall, the latter holds a previous win over the Mexican star and Steinke's backers still regard the Mexican's triumph two weeks ago as a "fluke."

Games Monday Night
Fullerton at Yorba Linda.
Tustin at Irvine.
Yorba Linda at Brea.
Oliver at San Juan Capistrano.

Players and managers usually start them, but one of the hottest arguments in the County Nightball league today centered around a uniform.

The uniform belongs to Irvine and is in the possession of Pitcher Ray Hodgson, whom Manager Ernie Lagier of Irvine agreed to release to Brea's co-leaders provided Hodgson returned the uniform to Irvine before game-time last night.

Hodgson failed to return it, but pitched anyway for his new club, and Brea defeated Holly Sugar company, 5 to 1. . . . Brea officials explained today that Hodgson had part of Irvine's uniform in the Imperial valley, and had written for the suit. . . . "We don't make any difference," said Manager Lagier of Irvine. "We claim a forfeit for Holly Sugar."

Brea's 5-1 decision over the third-place Holly Sugar outfit last night also was put before the scrutiny of league officials today as a result of a protest launched by F. D. Shaw, manager of the losing team.

The sugar nine contends that Brazil Loumagne, the Lions' third baseman, blocked Frank Martinez, who was rounding the bases, for home plate in the ninth inning. He had previously doubled, and was followed by another scoring two-bagger by Pinch Hitter Cruz.

It was a case of interference with the base runner, and Martinez did not attempt to regain third base, and was forlornly thrown out at the plate, Shaw said. Holly's rally died with the out.

Ray Hodgson, who is involved in the Brea-Irvine controversy, allowed nine hits and struck out eight for Brea.

George Dearborn's Tustinites looked impressive in defeating a stubborn Olive nine, 7 to 5, on Tustin's well-lighted diamond. "We" sack for home plate in the ninth inning. He had previously doubled, and was followed by another scoring two-bagger by Pinch Hitter Cruz.

San Juan Capistrano celebrated with a decisive 15-0 whitewash of Yorba Linda. First Baseman Luc hit a homer for the beach boys.

Budge Gains Finals, Upsets Japanese Star

LONDON, (AP)—Red-headed Don Budge, America's top-ranking tennis star, swept into the final round of the Queen's club tournament today with an easy 6-2, 6-2 victory over Fumitero Nakano, Japanese Davis cup player.

Budge loafed most of the way. He never had to use his biggest guns against the Japanese, who played in disappointing fashion after the good show he had put on with tiny Bryan Grant yesterday.

Budge's deep drives either had Nakano netting or outing weakly. Nakano had earned his place in the semi-finals when Grant was forced to quit after two sets of their match in the quarter-finals yesterday because of a lame shoulder and a severe cold.

Kay Stammers, British ace, and Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland were the winners in the women's finals. Miss Stammers eliminated Mrs. J. B. Pittman of England, 6-0, 6-1, while Mile Jedzejowska defeated Margaret Scriven, another British star, 6-2, 10-8.

PANCHO LEYVAS BOXES SALICA

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Hoping to prove his recent one-round knockout was no accident, Lou Salica, New York bantamweight, meets Pancho Leyvas, Yuma, Ariz., Mexican, at the Legion stadium tonight.

The little eastern Italian put Leyvas out in 59 seconds several weeks ago. Leyvas claimed it was a "luck punch" and asked for a return bout.

Carpenters 5, Elks 4.

It was "Mel Toller" day at the Municipal Bowl last night, with the Carpenters' Texas slinger pitching and batting the league-leading Elks into submission, 5-4, to put the lodgemens only a few points ahead of the second-place teams, Grand Central Market and Montgomery Ward's.

Commercial National Bank mowed down the cellar inmates, M. E. South, 11-2, to tie the Carpenters for fourth place. Harold Youel of the Youel brothers pitched a six-hit game for himself in turning back the Methodists.

Toller won his own game with a sharp single in the seventh, bringing in Fred Wiener with what proved to be the winning run. He also whiffed the dangerous B. P. O. E. fence-busters 11 times, and made three timely hits to boot.

The Elks started going places in the first two innings, piling up a 4-2 lead, but they were helpless from then on with Toller's brilliant pitching. Roger Dominguez started off the first with a single. LeRoy Levens was safe on "Buck" White's miss-pitch, and Fred Cartwright batted a single to score Dominguez.

Cy Slevier's fielder's choice brought in Levens with the second run.

The Carpenters made two in their half of the first on Clarence Palmer's single, Wiener's sacrifice, an error by Darwin Scott and a brace of singles by Toller and Earl Bagwell.

After Barnes and Cox had gone down swinging in the second for the Elks team, three straight doubles by Dominguez, Scott and Levens brought in a pair of runs.

Jeff Jefferson hit the only home run of the feature game in the fifth for the Carpenters, with mate Wiener on deck. Levens tied the game. Toller's single ended the scoring in the seventh.

Bob Wimbush, Harvey Hemphill and Bob Schwarm led the commercials in hitting against the winless Methodist. Wimbush slammed a homer in the seventh with one out, and Schwarm drove in two runs with timely hits in the first and second innings.

Gigantic Football Pool Planned On 40 Leading Games

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Nevada secretary of state at Carson City for "The Great American Football Pool, Inc.," sponsored by a syndicate of San Francisco and Reno men.

The company proposes to sell tickets in a football pool and give prizes to those who most accurately guess the total score of 40 leading collegiate games in the United States. Prizes, according to the promoters, would range from $100,000 down and $300,000 would be set aside for construction of a hospital in Reno. An estimated $5,000,000 would be collected and 1700 prizes would be awarded.

LADY GOLFERS HONORED

Three Willowick golf course ladies—Mrs. H. A. Bradley and Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth of Santa Ana and Mrs. Polly Curmuth of Huntington Beach—were honored with offices in the Women's South Coast Public Links association election in Whittier yesterday.

Mrs. Bradley was named secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Curmuth, chairman. Mrs. Ainsworth, manager of the Willowick course, was elected team captain.

Other officers were Mrs. L. K. Little of Whittier, president; and Mrs. Ella Nouse of Long Beach, vice-president.

Golf competition held in conjunction with the women's meeting resulted in the following scores: First low net—Mrs. Ella Wierbach, 93-20-73.

Second low net—Mrs. Jack Potts, 96-18-78.
Play was held over the Green Hills layout.

MID-DAY SUN WINS

ASCOT, Eng. (AP)—Mrs. G. B. Miller's derby winner, Mid-Day Sun, captured the Hardwick stakes of a mile and a half, last big event of the fashionable Ascot meeting today.

Currently the Oaks have won two out of three and need only an even break in the remaining four games to capture the elusive series from the Beavers.

Ken Douglas, the tall Scot, was in a frugal mood yesterday and limited the Beavers to seven widely distributed hits as the Oaks took the game, 6 to 3. If Manager Bill Sweeney hadn't elected himself as a pinch hitter, Douglas probably would have scored a shutout.

There were two Beavers on the bags in the seventh inning when Sweeney sent the second pitched ball for a ride over the left field fence for a homer.

The Sacramento Seals cut down the Sacramento Solons' league leadership to two full games by taking a doubleheader from the eighth-place San Francisco Missions, 3 to 0 and 6 to 1, while the Seattle Indians defeated the Senators, 5 to 2.

Seattle's victory put the Tribe into fifth place ahead of Portland while Los Angeles made it three in a row over the San Diego Padres 4 to 2, to replace them in third position in the league.

Ed Stutz limited the Missions to five hits, shutting them out in the first game. "Sad Sam" Gibson was credited with his 12th win of the season although lifted in the fifth inning of the second game for a pinch-hitting act by the versatile Gene Lillard, pitcher-3d baseman, who singled and drove in a run.

A timely two-bagger by pinch hitter Don Hurst, scoring two runs in the fifth inning, helped Ray Prim pitch the Angels to their victory over the Padres. Sacramento's Tony Freitas gave up only two earned runs, but errors cost him the game. Paul Gregory, Seattle hurler, fanned six.

SOVIET DOOR CLOSED TO JAPANESE

TOKYO (AP)—Official circles advanced the opinion today Russia was endeavoring to close the doors of the Soviet Union to Japanese. Authorities were informed the Soviet had cancelled the visas of Japanese delegates invited to the fifth Soviet Union theatrical festival in September.

At the same time the Soviet government brought pressure on Japan to close the Japanese and Manchoukuan consulates at Vladivostok, Blagoveshensk, Khabarovsk and other Yitang points, apparently with the aim of stripping Russia of Japanese residents.

Japanese also noted the Russian government had failed to grant visas to the Japanese delegates to the world geological congress to be held in Moscow July 21.

PUBLISHERS TO DISCUSS GUILD

CHICAGO (AP)—The presidents of 10 large association of newspaper editors and publishers issued a call today for a special convention June 29 to discuss the demands of the American Newspaper Guild for a closed shop.

RULING MADE ON JOBLESS TAXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employees in some states must pay both state and federal unemployment taxes this year, the internal revenue bureau has decided.

The bureau said that in a state whose unemployment law levying taxes on 1936 wage payments had not been approved by the social security board by last Dec. 31, employers paying the levies could not credit the against federal unemployment taxes.

The bureau did not say how its ruling would affect specific states.

RAIL MEN PLAN STRIKE VOTE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Committees of railroad employees will meet in Chicago next Monday to prepare a strike ballot to put through demands for wage increases made March 22, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen announced today.

The March demands, for a 20 per cent wage increase, were served on all carriers by the five transportation unions for all classes represented by them, including dining car stewards.

The brotherhood pointed out that since the demands were made the unions have been unable to obtain a conference with the railroads, and that any settlement that is made now will be retroactive to May 1.

Finishes World Trip In Yawl

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—The 34-foot yawl Islander, with 67-year-old Harry Pidgeon of Los Angeles its skipper and crew, was back in the United States today after completing its second world voyage in 18 years. The stubby ship made New London from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. Pidgeon built the ship himself.

Parents Find Son Is Registered As Being a Girl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Sogaki, of San Francisco, were confused today because they discovered their son was officially their daughter.

The offspring, Tadae, was born 15 years ago. A few days ago the family had occasion to investigate the child's birth certificate. It said Tadae was a girl. The Sogakis were crestfallen, Tadae wondered if he were going to desert pants for skirts. A medical examination proved the birth certificate was wrong.

Today the Sogaki family discussed ways and means to change things with the Japanese association.

Bendix Leases Burbank Hangar

CHICAGO (AP)—The Bendix Aviation corporation has taken a 20-year lease from United Air Lines on a hangar at Burbank, and obtained an option on a "large piece of vacant property" adjoining the airport for possible future expansion, Vincent Bendix, president, announced.

He said "both plant facilities and personnel are being expanded" by the company in California.

EASY TERMS ON BUYING HIT

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Easier terms for installment buyers have drawn buyers' severe criticism from the head of the nation's retail credit experts.

Here for opening of the silver anniversary convention of the National Retail Credit association, L. S. Crowder of St. Louis, the organization's general manager, said credit men were concerned more with liberalization of installment buying terms than with the sharp rise in the total volume of such transactions.

"The majority of members of the association are opposed to this liberalization, which is not sound business and may prove dangerous," he declared in an interview.

"The association is opposed to competition between stores in credit service or installment terms, believing competition should be limited to the grade of goods."

REFUGEES IN BILBAO ARE STARVING

Food Distribution For Besieged City Has Broken Down

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier (AP)—More than 500,000 civilians were reported starving in refugee-swamped Bilbao because of a breakdown of food distribution within the harassed city.

Refugees fleeing the Basque provincial capital said food no longer was being issued.

Hordes of fugitives from the countryside have swarmed into the city, swelling its population, normally less than 200,000, to more than a half million, the refugees said.

Insurgent sources declared Generalissimo Francisco Franco had taken personal command of the besieging forces that have smashed Bilbao's "iron ring" defenses and drawn an almost complete circle in the city's suburbs.

The refugees said extremists have started sacking houses in the belief insurgent occupation now is inevitable.

FOOD FROM GARBAGE DUMP—With bombs pounding Bilbao, these residents of the beleaguered city went to the garbage dump for food. Orange peels and potato peelings were much sought after morsels.

Lathrop Jr. High News

At the last assembly of the year, two of Lathrop's students were greatly honored to receive cups for tennis and badminton. Douglas May was presented with the tennis cup by Clarence Sprague, for the 20-30 club, while Soren Sorenson was presented with the badminton cup by Newell Vandermast, an old Lathrop student representing Vandermast's clothing store. Lathrop is very proud of its two champions.

A scrapbook, called "Lathrop Highlights," made in art classes by Enid Jones, Florence Grisct and Frances Brando, and compiled by members of Miss Blythe's high nine literature class, was presented to Mr. Nelson and the school by Frances Brando. The book contains sections for each class, with photographs for art, music, drama, for snapshots and for miscellaneous entries. The high nines hope that other classes will continue "The Highlights" for the school.

Paul Cleary, outgoing student body president, introduced his successor, Ben Fannell, to the audience, in a few words. Ben, in turn, introduced his student body officers, elected two weeks ago. Bill Was, of the boys' I. X. L. Club, introduced Warren Danielson, who presented his corps of fellow workers, and Nancy Morris, of the Every Girl's club, announced the new president, Ruanne Neighbor, who presented her officers. Following these presentations, a splendid musical program was given by the combined glee clubs and the orchestra, under the direction of Miss Cornell and Mr. Stover.

Miss Foster's high nine girls were very fashionable last Saturday when they wore the spring dresses that they have been making in the clothing class. During the Every Girl's club meeting, a fashion show was given by this group. The prefect, Dorothy Nelson, had charge, with Roberta Emerson and Gertrude Knox as associates, and Lois Ernst, Betty McCauley and Mary Pappas as models. Sixty-five dresses were modeled by the girls, while musical numbers were given by the Lathrop trio, Beverly Short, Betty Haynes and Ruth McDonald.

Eighth grade classes under Mrs. Marguerite Hill's instructions have just finished their study of "Boy Life on the Prairie" by Harold Garland. The study has resulted in many original and splendid poems and stories based on the prairie schooner days, Mrs. Hill reports. The class' final activity for the year was a scrapbook of original work dedicated to "Other Eighth Graders."

Concluding a study of modern civilizations of the world, each member of Mrs. Hill's H 7 T social studies class is offering a special study of one particular country. Pictorial maps with an outline of the nation's growth, notable photographs and original stories have been included in this work.

As final triumph for the year, Lathrop's crack badminton player, Soren Sorenson, and his partner, Corine Wendorf, walked away with a tennis cup last Monday evening at the Willard courts. Also playing in the mixed doubles series were James Blackwell and Mary Frances White; Clifford Whitford and Beverly Eckles; Douglas May and Irma Jean May and Paul Cleary and Shirley Wolven.

Complimenting their parents and teachers, members of Miss Elfreda Biggin's Scrapbook club entertained last Friday during the club period. Dainty corsages were presented to the guests, who were conducted about the room, by club members, to view the interesting displays.

Miss Nicholson's H 7 social science class has just completed a very interesting project on the British empire. Each country was studied as a separate unit. Reviews were conducted by several members of the class. Pictures of various places within the empire were clipped from the Christian Science Monitor. Stories were written about each picture, which were typed. Maps were drawn of each possession and marked on the maps. As a fitting close for the unit of work, the boys and girls were privileged to listen to

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Had you thought there might be an enjoyable middle course in art appreciation between those rabid moderns who, knowingly, abandon all tradition and those who steep themselves in the past?

Not so much an uneventful progression upon a straight way as the careful consideration of those things beside the road that deepen one's appreciation and culture.

Time for a Dali, and then a Rembrandt, a Da Vinci and a Picasso together with a realization of the play of their respective environments upon their work. In short, a sensing of background, and the right thing at the right time and place.

This, I find, is strong point, too, with Garrett Van Pelt, whose the coronation ceremonies and reported interesting events happening throughout the empire.

H7 mathematics class in Miss Nicholson's room have been studying various forms used in business, such as order blanks, bills, checks, money orders and receipts. Units were organized and systematic buying was done among class members. The various transactions were shown by making out the necessary forms used in regular business.

The last meeting of the I. X. L. Club for the year was held in the auditorium of Julia C. Lathrop Friday, June 11. The president, Billy Was, called the meeting to order and introduced Jack Hutton, ex-Lathrop student and a student of senior high school. At the opening of Jack's talk he said that Lathrop was the best school when he went to junior high school and that Lathrop is still the best junior high school. He then gave a talk on how to be a "Good Boy." He started out by saying that "all boys could be good if they tried, not by being as you would call a 'sissy,' but good enough so that your reputation would not be spoiled." "Boys who act like bullies," he said, "sometimes are just fakers who try to make you believe that they are tough."

He went on to say that he has not a single enemy and that if he ever met up with an enemy he would try to fix it so they could be friends. Jack concluded in his talk that he would be waiting at high school for any of the boys who wanted any help in making themselves better than what they are. The entire I. X. L. enjoyed Jack coming and giving advice.

More than 50 boys and girls have already signed up for membership in the Sky High Book club, a vacation reading club to be conducted at the Lathrop branch library this summer.

Sky High Book club members will be eligible to try for the new Reading certificates that are to be given by the Lathrop branch library to all boys and girls who read at least 10 approved books during the summer vacation. According to Miss Leona Calkins, librarian, many new books have been added to the library shelves recently. Some of the new books are:

GARDEN SECRETS

By WILLIS CADWALLADER Of Blanding Nurseries

"The warlike steed is multiplied we find..." —Ovid.

Aphids multiply quite rapidly, but because of so many natural enemies the aphid does not become an uncontrollable pest. It is not attracted by every plant, but likes roses, citrus trees, cottonseeds and certain other perennials and annuals in particular. Of these, roses are by far the most susceptible.

Aphids are small, soft-bodied, pale green to black, with nearly globular bodies and six long legs. They secrete a sweet sticky substance called honey-dew. The ants are very fond of this honey-dew, and watch over the aphids as we would watch over a cow. They will move them about from place to place to provide good feeding grounds.

Ants are equally fond of the secretion from root aphids. They will watch the eggs through the winter and scatter the young lice along the roots of plants that pass through the furrows.

A number of different plants are attacked by the root aphid and frequently extensive injury is caused. Taking the aster as a specific and after an aphid attack, little or no growth is manifested, and the plant becomes yellow and wilts in the hot sun.

Spraying for Aphids
 The aphid in securing sap from the plant, punctures the soft tender growth. Stomach poisons such as arsenate of lead or paris green will not affect the aphids, which require a good spray that will kill on contact. The material most often used is a nicotine sulphate solution sprayed forcibly on the aphids. Pyrethrum base sprays or dusts are also used with success.

In the case of aphids attacking the roots, the plants may be well watered with a nicotine sulphate solution or tobacco dust mixed with equal parts of air-slaked lime may be worked in around the roots. If larger areas are concerned, a heavy coating of this mixture may be scattered over the surface and spaded in. The rains will soak this through the soil, where chemicals will operate against the insects.

Lathrop Class Stages Party
 The Lathrop H9's brought to a fitting close their three years of Junior High school with a class party. This happy affair, sponsored by the home room teachers, Miss Carl, Miss Kline, Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. Bryte, Miss Blythe, Mr. Orr and Mrs. Wolff, was greatly enjoyed by all.

The program, which was given in the assembly hall, was presided over by Robert Porter. Those contributing entertainment were Richard Watson, drums; Milton Danielson and Robert Porter, in a skit; Ruth Hawley, with a reading; a double quartet; a play from the drama department, and Maureen Waters concluding with a tap dance. Following the program, the class adjourned to the cafeteria for a social hour.

Bob Zava strengthens the still-life aspect of the show with his first gallery contribution.
 Thus welcome to newcomers, and with them Milford Zornes' "On Alameda Estuary" where ships are almost lifted from the water by the light upon its.
 Rex Brandt is also mariner-minded with "On the Ways."
 Strangely, I find a Northern Renaissance feeling in the mountains and clouds of Norman Chamberlain's "New Mexican Hills."
 Popular vote goes a long way to prove my point—that, given a chance to participate in the gallery activity, lay members show a lot more interest. They stay longer, give the pictures so much more careful a consideration.

BOURBONS TO STAGE MASS MEETING

Assembly of Democrats To Hear Files Talk On Government

J. Ray Files, prominent Los Angeles attorney, will be the featured speaker at a public mass meeting scheduled for next Tuesday night in the auditorium of the Willard Junior High school, it was announced today by Chester I. Dale, general chairman of the California Assembly of Democrats, Orange county unit.

Files will discuss the subject, "California's Need For a Democratic Government," outlining the necessity for a state Democratic administration to cooperate with the national administration.

This meeting is open to the public without charge, and is the first of a series of similar events planned by the Assembly of Democrats.

Other prominent Democrats who will be present at the meeting will include George White, San Diego-Orange county district director of the Works Progress administration.

Joseph Peterson, chairman of the entertainment committee, will present a musical program, featuring John Stout, youthful Orange violinist, and Stanley Kurtz, El Modena vocalist.

A feature of the meeting will be presented through the courtesy of Hill and Hill, local electrical firm, which will install a 1938 model radio to enable the Democrats to hear the broadcast of the world heavyweight championship fight between James Braddock and Joe Louis. This part of the program will be presented first.

The assembly is organized to present a united front in the campaign to elect a Democratic governor. The various county assemblies will unite to back one candidate.

Foreign Trade of Nation Growing

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The commerce department reported United States foreign trade with all major geographical divisions increased during the first four months of this year.

Exports aggregated $980,897,000, compared with $768,496,000 in the same period last year. At $1,112,949,000, imports this year compared with $781,736,000 in the first four months of 1936.

Exports to Europe increased from $337,600,000 last year to $381,474,000, and imports from Europe rose from $214,688,000 to $295,716,000.

Japan Plans Big Military Outlay

TOKYO, (AP)—To offset mounting armaments in the Soviet Union and China, the Japanese army intends to ask 900,000,000 yen ($258,430,500) and the navy 800,000,000 yen ($229,716,000) under the 1938 budget.

Girl Who Killed Father Escapes Trial For Murder

SAN DIEGO, (AP)—Marian Ayres, 15, who shot and killed her father, Frank Thompson Ayres, 47, navy chief petty officer, because she said he was beating her mother, won't be tried for murder.

Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine has declared a murder complaint against the girl "dead" and made her a ward of the juvenile court as a dependent and not a delinquent.

Treasury Issue Over-Subscribed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The treasury has reported it took advantage of a heavy oversubscription for its $800,000,000 June note issue to borrow an extra $52,000,000.

Under the law, Secretary Morgenthau can increase offerings by not more than 10 per cent after subscriptions are in.

The treasury had offered $400,000,000 of 1 1/2 per cent, 2 1/2-year notes and $400,000,000 of 1 1/2 per cent 4 1/2-year notes. It sold $426,494,300 of the former and $426,490,000 of the latter.

The total issue was about six times oversubscribed.

Asks Roosevelt to Aid Jewish Home

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A delegation from the Pro-Palestine Federation of America has asked President Roosevelt to use the influence of his office with Great Britain toward execution of the "letter and spirit" of the mandate to establish a Jewish national home in Palestine.

GRANULATION IN ORANGES STUDIED

California's "granulation" in Valencia oranges is identical with Florida's "drying out" of citrus fruits, according to announcement by Dr. E. T. Bartholomew, plant physiologist, at the Riverside Citrus Experiment Station. Dr. Bartholomew has just returned from Florida, where he went to make a study of the physiological disease to determine whether it was the same as found in California.

In California this trouble affects only Valencia oranges, said Dr. Bartholomew, while in Florida it appears in nearly all citrus fruits. It appears to be caused by a fast, over-abundant growth. Many people believe cold weather is a cause of the trouble, mistaking injury from cold and frost for granulation. It does not appear that cold has any bearing upon true granulation, however, for it has been found in fruit produced in a climate never lower than 60 degrees.

Granulation of Valencia oranges has been the subject of considerable investigation in Orange county, says Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. Several experimental plots have been established here in attempting to determine the cause of the trouble. Some of the factors being investigated are the effect of different amounts of irrigation water, different soil types, transmission through budding, and effect of sprays.

Berry Named for Mrs. Roosevelt

WALLACE, N. C. (AP)—A recently-developed giant strawberry, heretofore known only as type 337, became the Eleanor Roosevelt strawberry today.

Dr. Charles Dearing, director of state experiment farm which produced the new variety, announced the choice of the name with the approval of the wife of the President.

The berries range from two to three inches in length. Mrs. Roosevelt visited Wallace's annual strawberry festival recently.

Poison-Hurler Sought By Cops

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Sheriff's deputies searched today for a young woman who attempted to throw poison into the face of Mrs. Lee Amey, a bride of a week. Mrs. Amey, wife of Jack Amey, said the attempt to blind or disfigure her was made when she opened the door of her home in response to a knock.

Neither Mrs. Amey nor her husband was able to give any clue, they said.

DENVER TRIP ASSURED ELK VOCALISTS

National fame will be brought to Santa Ana by the Santa Ana Elks double quartet, which will appear on all the important programs at the national convention in Denver next month.

Yesterday afternoon the Elks committee in charge of raising funds to send the double quartet to the grand lodge convention received a telegram from Monroe Goldstein, convention director, asking if the quartet can take part in the opening ceremonies, July 12.

Plan Other Appearances
A wire was sent back, informing Goldstein that the quartet will make the appearance. The Santa Ana singers will appear before the Denver Rotary club at noon July 15, and at the Orpheum theater the night of July 14.

The singers will appear in the ritualistic contest to be broadcast over a national radio system on July 13, and on July 15 will sing at a big rodeo in Denver stadium. The local quartet has been chosen from all groups in the United States to sing before a crowd of 20,000 persons at the impressive memorial service program.

Local Elks Fill Car
Enough local Elks to fill a car in a train will leave for the national convention on July 9 at 6 p. m. A delegation of 30, headed by Exalted Ruler Harold R. Brown, will make the trip. Joe Harless and Frank Briggs, who have worked hard to raise money to send the double quartet to Denver, are planning to go.

The Santa Ana delegation will take along 2000 descriptive folders on Santa Ana and Orange county for distribution at the convention. Ten boxes of Valencia oranges, donated by packing houses, also will be carried to the convention by the local Elks.

FLAVORITE HAM IS POPULAR

Popularity of the Flavorite brand ham, according to George Klammer, owner of the Broadway Market, has increased steadily among Santa Ana food buyers since it was first put on the market a year ago.

An increase in sales of the product has been noticed during the early summer weeks, Klammer said, primarily because of its convenience in picnic suppers. A secret curing process, developed by the packers, has brought the ham wide national acceptance, he explained.

Scientists at Iowa State college have discovered a toxin that retards the fungus and mold growth on corn, barley, fruits and vegetables.

Groom Sheppard to Grab Townsend Throne

NEW FACTION READY FOR BATTLE

Congressman Touted As Leader Of Proposed
Welfare Clubs

A "Battle of the Giants" was shaping up today between Dr. F. E. Townsend and Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, who recently broke with the pension plan founder.

Sheppard is being groomed to become the big shot of the General Welfare club organization which is trying to take Dr. Townsend's pension program away from him. So far, the grooming is more or less behind the scenes. But it may come into the open in Santa Ana July 1 when Sheppard is scheduled to address a meeting of Democrats. The session will give him an opportunity to amplify his position.

Represents This Area
A battle between Sheppard and Townsend for control of the pension organization would have repercussions throughout the nation. Sheppard represents Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties in congress. He was elected through support of Townsdenites and Democrats in this district.

A "feeler" regarding Sheppard as head of the General Welfare clubs was buried in a bundle of routine news sheets reaching The Journal. The "feeler" began talking about Arthur L. Johnson and got around to Sheppard in the final sentence.

Johnson, who has been conspicuous at Washington in affairs of the pension advocates, is a Stanford university graduate formerly connected with the state labor commission.

Would Take Job
"All I want," he said in a recent statement, "is to continue as chairman of the general welfare act legislative committee. My field is the legislative end of the movement."

"If these (general welfare) clubs, which are already springing up all over the country, get together and employ me as their legislative representative, I shall be more than pleased to accept, but feel that leadership in the national organization that is being formed to promote the general welfare act should go to some individual like Congressman Harry R. Sheppard of California, who has taken the lead in advocating the bill in congress."

Johnson's statement contained the first intimation here that active work is being carried on to form a national organization to promote the general welfare act. The statement does not mention who is at the head of this campaign at present, simply ending with the remark that the job "should go to some individual like Congressman Harry R. Sheppard."

SMOKE-EATERS REWARDED

Sooty Birds Get New Coats

Mother Nature has gone into the dry-cleaning business in Orange county. She's cleaning feather coats for birds. They got all dirty during smudging operations last February. Birds, flying from smoke cloud to smoke cloud, got soot on their feathers.

They can't do much about cleaning it off, so Mother Nature took over the job. Today she had just finished a survey of the situation and announced she'd decided the easiest and cheapest way to handle it is to give all the birds new coats. And so the birds have been busy shedding their old ones. Moulting, some folks call it. Mother Nature will provide the new ones at no expense to the birds.

It's been a hard season on the birds, in a way, but no one thought much about it until the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology at the University of California got to working on the subject. Its interest was aroused when a number of badly-smudged birds from the citrus belt were received at the museum.

They all looked like black birds. Museum authorities refused to be fooled by the "disguise" and announced the birds were humming birds, house wrens, thrashers, warblers, gold finches, sparrows and towhees.

Smoke Eaters
The museum said the birds weren't bothered by their black coats. Even during the cold snap they went on singing in the smoke. In fact a bulletin from the University of California went so far as to call the birds smoke eaters. They stayed around because their homes were here.

Scientists at the museum say they are puzzled because the birds weren't bothered by the smoke. They think the birds ought to have died or moved away or started some kind of movement against smoke. The scientists don't like being puzzled about a thing like this.

But they won't have much time to scratch their heads about it. For Mother Nature is turning out those new coats pretty fast. The birds will be wearing their new fall styles before the puzzle is solved.

Fig Growers Plan Field Day June 25
On June 25 fig growers from all sections of Southern California will meet at the Riverside Citrus Experiment Station for a general educational get-together in the morning and a field tour in the afternoon.

The program, said Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, will start at 10 a. m., in the lecture room of the experiment station, located on Box Spring road, just east of Riverside.

All growers are invited to attend, the requested to bring their picnic lunch. Coffee will be furnished.

Smart Blue and White Motif Is Carried Out by Mrs. Gail Jordan at Party

Forty Guests Received At Luncheon

Mrs. Frank Harrington And Mrs. Rolla Hays Are Prize-Winners

Two score attractive young matrons of Santa Ana were assembled yesterday afternoon at one of the most delightful luncheon parties of the season, when Mrs. Gail Jordan entertained at Daniger's.

They were seated at one long table set in a private dining room in which a smart blue and white decorative motif was carried out. White pottery bowls of shasta daisies and bachelor buttons alternated with tall blue and white tapered in pottery holders. Place-cards and tallies echoed the same tones and flowers in moderne design.

Mrs. Jordan received her guests in a sunny room with a black and white organza, and later took them to the card room for bridge. Here flowers and candles in soft peach tones created a pleasant contrast. Prizes awarded at the close of the day were a lovely hors d'oeuvre plate and iced-tea set in turquoise crystal, and went to Mrs. Frank Harrington, high score, and Mrs. Rolla Hays, Jr., second.

Guests at the affair were the Mesdames Calvin Flint, Stanley Norton, Paul Howe, James Eugene Walker, Edward Hall, Horace Leecing, Claud Brakebill, Leland Finley, Rolla Hays, Jr., Fred Forgy, Francis Horton, Chad Harwood, Albert Harvey, Joel Ogle, Anton Segerstrom, Frederick Elliott.

The Mesdames Glenn Mathis, Kingsley Tuttle, Joseph Knox, Arnold Norton, Frank Harrington, Oliver Lincomeyer, John Newman, Harold Harrison, Lyman Farwell, Joseph Smith, Jr., Donald Harwood, George Walker, Kenneth Conner, Lyle Kelly, Earl Zaiser, Herbert Hill, Worth Babbitt, Harold Dale, Charles McDaniell, Robert Maypole, Chester Horton, Robert Guild, Wayne Harrison, Horace Mickle, Paul Grand, Chester Stafford, Stanley Anderson and Melvin Stafford and Miss Anne Tarver.

Enjoying the good menu and the jolly time were Superintendent Frank Henderson, Miss Huberteen Kuerneman, Harold Yost, Miss Helen Deaton, Miss Margaret Hadley, Miss Alice Martin, Miss Louise Sartor, Mrs. Genevieve Parker, Mrs. Phyllis Smith, George Newsum, Leon Lauderbach, and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler.

SOMETHING SHADY—It's made of beige horsehair and trimmed with light green velvet, worked into a cabbage or "chou," as the French say.

GARDEN SECTION IN FINAL MEETING

An Easter lily vine, flowering maples, a "flit" plant, a canary bird bush, a pink passion flower, and a branch from a coral tree were a few of the specimens brought by Jack Evans of the Evans-Reeves rare plant gardens, to the final meeting of Santa Ana Ebells' garden section yesterday.

As speaker of the day, Mr. Evans explained the care of plants and showed an especially interesting array of fuchsias, inviting the group to see the gardens of them now in bloom in his nursery.

Several lovely plants were given away as prizes during the afternoon.

After Mr. Evans' talk, the members went out to the Albert Heinicke gardens on East Santa Clara street to see the exquisite display of begonias in the lath house.

A luncheon preceded the meeting, the members gathering at 12:30 o'clock at pretty tables decorated with hydrangeas in mid-Victorian, lace frill bouquets. Mrs. Margaret Mennes was chairman of the luncheon committee, with Mrs. C. W. Westgate, Mrs. C. E. Downie and Mrs. E. C. Franson assisting.

GOWN FOR A BARONESS

PARIS.—The Baroness Eugene de Rothschild, who has been hostess to the Duke of Windsor at the Rothschild castle in Enzesfeld, Austria, is noted for her chic. Among the glamorous evening gowns she has chosen from Molyneux is one of black satin and tulle. A stiff black tulle collar stands up starchily at the neck. Two long sweeps of tulle fall from the waist and trail gracefully on the ground from each side of the satin skirt.

Lady Golfers Elect New Head

Women golfers of Santa Ana chose Mrs. R. W. Weston as new chairman for the coming year when they held a short business session yesterday at a luncheon meeting in the Santa Ana Country club following a morning tournament on the greens.

For the luncheon hour, the group was seated at a long table centered with pink carnations and maiden hair fern, with pink candles flanking the bowl and a crystal service of rose Fostoria forming the appointments.

Mrs. Don Andrews, this year's chairman of the women, presided over her last meeting at the close of the luncheon, giving a report of annual meeting held Wednesday in Los Angeles, when Mrs. J. L. McFadden was elected chairman of the eastern division of the Southern California board. Election of Mrs. Weston to head the local group followed.

Another feature of the day was presentation of awards to the winners of the tournament which ended this week, lovely sets of Fostoria crystal in different colors serving as the prizes. Awards went as follows:

Class A—First, Mrs. J. L. McFadden; second, Mrs. C. V. Doty; low out, Mrs. Paul Hall (after a tie with Mrs. Dean Campbell).

Class B—First, Mrs. E. W. McClure; second, Mrs. Don Andrews; low out, Mrs. Hugh Shields.

No-handicap class—First, Mrs. Emil Wagner; second, Mrs. R. A. Miller; two lucky prizes, Mrs. Charles Cogan and Mrs. Jack Colburn.

MYSTERY SISTER NAMES TO BE TOLD AT PARTY

Revealing of the mystery sisters who have sent them gifts and greetings from time to time through the year will be a feature of the party which members of the Women's Union of the Congregational church will hold next Tuesday night in the church parlors.

"Friendliness" is the theme chosen for this last gathering of the year before the summer vacation, to which husbands and all members of the church congregation are invited, in addition to the members of the union.

The evening program will include "Friend of Mine" and "The Hand of You," sung by Mrs. Pearl Livey, and a talk by the pastor, the Rev. Perry Shrock, on "The Power of Friendliness."

Light refreshments will be served after the mystery sisters have been revealed, and a social, get acquainted hour will follow. Mrs. Estelle Card Beeman is general chairman of arrangements. The party will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Daughters Of Confederacy Install

Installation of new officers was of particular interest yesterday afternoon when the United Daughters of the Confederacy had their final meeting preceding summer recess, for the ceremony was performed by a state officer, Mrs. E. P. Scattergood of Los Angeles, retiring division leader.

The affair occurred at the pretty home of Mrs. Rebecca Pope in Orange, who was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. Annice Blythe, Mrs. G. W. Harris, and Miss Sue Rankin. They served a late refreshment course.

Interesting reports of retiring executives and standing committee heads were given, and Mrs. Scattergood gave a most informative talk on the work of the U. D. C. in the district, stressing its scholarship activity. Mrs. Lillian Pritchett, who, previous to the meeting, had entertained Mrs. Scattergood at lunch in her Santa Ana home, reported on the state convention which she recently attended in Sacramento.

Mrs. J. W. Taylor, retiring president, was unable to be present at the affair, so her duties were vested in Mrs. Faye Gardner, first vice-president, who was installed president for the coming term.

Serving with Mrs. Gardner as officers are Mrs. William Bates, first vice-president; Mrs. C. C. Violet, second vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Luchinger, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Rogers, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Montgomery, registrar; Mrs. T. J. Houghton, historian; Miss Percy Head, recorder and custodian; Mrs. R. E. Samuels, chaplain; and Mrs. Ray Stedman, parliamentary.

Other members present were Mrs. Guy Miller, Mrs. E. A. Cox, Mrs. Belle Nuckolls, Mrs. Clara Dugan, Mrs. Isabel Tucker, Mrs. C. E. Price, Mrs. Lela Shropshire, Mrs. Lillian Pritchett, Miss Blanche Cartwell, and two guests, Mrs. J. J. Wagers, and Mrs. G. L. Niles.

TRIOLED

Let us draw a diagram of your situation in black and white. You've been married six months, and four months of this time your husband has been treating you like a housekeeper, only he would not dare to tell a housekeeper to take her children and leave until he had another one to take her place.

This may sound cruel but you want sound advice. Your husband is extremely selfish. It looks as tho he married you merely to have someone responsible to care for his home and bring up his children. Tell him so plainly, unless you want to go on for just years and years, taking all of the home responsibility without even so much as having the companionship of the man who pretended he wished to be your life partner.

You are young. Even yet, you have practically your whole life

Mary Stoddard Trait of Selfishness Is More Deadly in the Male Than in the Female

It is said that when a woman is good she is better than the best man, but when she is bad she is worse than the worst man!

Well, maybe so—but there is one trait of human nature that cannot be classed on that basis when judging men and women, and that is selfishness. An extremely selfish man, to my mind, is the most hopeless type of human in our midst. There seems to be no cure for him when he gets well on the way to placing "self" above everybody and everything.

I believe, from experience and observation, that this trait is more deadly in the male than the female.

I offer the following letter as just one more proof:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have read your column for a long time and certainly think your advice is consistently sound. I feel so much in need of an outsider's viewpoint right now.

I have been married for the second time about six months. I have two children by my former marriage and my present husband has two also by a previous marriage. We were both given the custody of our children so I am caring for the four of them.

Everything went smoothly for the first two months, then suddenly on his night off he began going out alone and he has kept this up for the last four months. He will neither spend his evening at home or take me out with him, even occasionally. He gives no explanation where he has been.

I can't understand his attitude. We used to go together all the time and have grand times, just the two of us.

It is difficult to work hard seven days a week and never go any place. He doesn't want me to go out alone on the nights he is working, but when his night off comes he doesn't hesitate to dress himself and go by himself.

I have tried the same thing twice, on his night off—I simply dressed myself, and went out, too, alone.

I gave him no explanation as to where I had been. He accused me of stepping out and said if I was going to start that, he would take his children and move. It seems so unfair to take that attitude, don't you think?

Perhaps you can tell me what to do, as I feel it is eventually going to break up. It is a weekly occurrence and for two or three days afterward there is always a tension that makes it very unpleasant. If I could successfully solve this I would be happy. I am only 24. Thanks.

TRIOLED.

Girl Reserve Secretary Feted

Announcement of the resignation of Miss Mary Porter from her position as executive secretary of Girl Reserves in the Santa Ana Young Women's Christian association, made at the June board meeting, is forming the incentive for a number of charming courtesies this week-end.

Several delightful farewell affairs have been planned by friends and co-workers who have heard with regret Miss Porter's plan to give up her work here after three years at the head of the local Girl Reserve organization. She plans to go to Berkeley to take courses toward her master's degree and will leave Santa Ana July 10.

One of the lovely parties planned by her friends was the dinner at which Miss Alma Karlsson and Miss Damaris Beeman presided last night in their home at 2120 North Ross street.

Centering their table with a bowl of pink carnations and sweet peas, and two smaller side tables with bowls of pansies, the hostesses served a delicious dinner which was followed by games of bridge. Miss Mary Howard captured high honors in the games, with second high going to Mrs. K. H. Sutherland.

Those present to honor Miss Porter were her mother, Mrs. Helen Porter of San Marino, Mrs. Thomas Mabel McFadden, Lena Thomas, Genevieve Humiston, Dorothy Decker, Clara Spelman, Mary Schofield, Billie Bell, Roberta Nichols, Helen Lowe, Isabel McCormac, Mary Nau, Eugenia Gilbert and Margaret Fine. A lovely gift was presented to Miss Porter by the co-hostesses.

BRIDE-TO-BE GIVES PARTY FOR ATTENDANTS

Concluding a series of lovely courtesies which have honored her in the weeks before her marriage, Miss Fern Farmer, who on Sunday will exchange vows with Frank Willis of Orange, presided at a delightful little dinner party Wednesday night for the members of her bridal party.

Miss Erlene Farmer, her sister, who will be her maid of honor; Miss Mabel Willis, sister of her fiance, who is to be one of the bridesmaids; her four other bridesmaids, the Misses Nadene Pennington, Virginia Bruns, Eloise Hickey, and Jane Austin; and little Miss Darlene LeBard, who will be her flower girl, were the guests at the party.

Flowers in the crystal bowl centering the table were in the shades of the dresses the attendants will wear in the Sunday afternoon ceremony, and pastel-colored candies in crystal holders flanked either side of the bowl.

The table was spread with gleaming white dinner damask, and at each place was a pretty gift from the bride.

The men attendants in the wedding, and other close friends of the bridegroom-to-be, were guests of the latter at a party last night in his home.

Mind Your Etiquette In Asking Him to Call

Should you ask Jim to call? Or should he ask if he may? So many more good times for you—if you know the answer to that etiquette question.

You should, usually, ask the man to call. But—Jim! If Jim's asked to take you home, say cordially, "Do come to see me, won't you? I'm often home on Sunday." Of if he says he hopes he'll see you again—that's another moment for an invitation.

But Jim may, if he wishes, ask to call. Then it's up to you to suggest the date.

And keep up the good impression you make. At the movies, you precede Jim when an usher's on hand. When introducing Jim to a woman, say her name first. And at a tea room, tell Jim what you want, the waitress.

So simple—but so important! Let our 32-page booklet tell you what's correct—at parties, dates, motoring, every day.

Send 10c for your copy of "Etiquette for Girls and Men" to The Santa Ana Journal, Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Hollywood SIGHTS and SOUNDS

The familiar face of Johnny Mack Brown will be seen on the screen at the Princess Theater tonight when he stars in "Bar-Z Bad Men," a thrilling western.

Cattle rustlers who try to fasten their crimes upon an innocent rancher provide the motive for the film, and Brown plays the role of a cowboy who puts them in their place.

In the cast with him are such familiar western players as Tom London, Jack Rockwell, Ernie Adams, Milt Morante, Frank LaRue and Dick Curtis.

The picture will run at the Princess for two days.

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—That dime or quarter the schoolgirl puts on the line to see Garbo love Robert Taylor in support of the singing star, of close-ups of Garbo loving Frederic March.

The chances of such romantic association between screen love and prosaic coins admittedly are small. Yet dreams have been made on lesser stuff, and if the thought gives any sensation of intimacy with Taylor I have no doubt that John Nickolaus will say "You're welcome, girls."

Nickolaus is the brain-daddy of the "silver mine in a tank" at the Metro studios, where the reclamation of the precious metal from Taylor I have no doubt that John Nickolaus will say "You're welcome, girls."

The tank-mine produces upward of $60,000 in silver annually. But the silver itself, nice as it is to have around, is not the whole object of the process. This is explained in a headline which reads: "The hypophosphite of soda solution used to 'fix' film."

Developed film by "fixed" or made permanent by being passed through the "hypo" solution, which makes the film transparent by removing all the silver and leaving the metal only on the darkened portions of the picture. The released silver eventually accumulates to an extent where the solution can absorb no more, hence is used.

At this point it is pumped into cells, or wooden tanks, in which are large plates of aluminum. An electric current is shot through, and the silver particles leap to the aluminum plates like Garbo to the arms of Taylor. How Taylor fared in "Cavalcade" but all that happens to the aluminum plates is that they get electroplated with the silver. When this is done, the "hypo" is fresh and usable again, and is pumped back into the developing machine.

Melted Into Bricks
The silver is then cracked off the plates, melted down into bricks, and sold. That's how the schoolgirl's coin may trace its lineage, perhaps, to the by-products of screen romance.

In silent days the exhausted "hypo" was thrown away. Then a chemical firm approached studios, offering to haul the stuff away for nothing. Cecil B. DeMille became curious, learned that silver was being reclaimed, and had a reclamation machine set up in his studio. To this day he owns the paperweight made from the first block of silver thus produced in a studio.

The first matinee goes on at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow, the second following immediately. The evening show will open at 6 p. m. Groucho, Harpo and Chico Marx present their maddest and merriest comedy to date in "A Day at the Races." The plot shifts from a sanitarium to the race track, and the film introduces Groucho as a race track frequenter who sells good ice cream and bum tips.

Allen Jones plays the part of a young singer, who owns a race horse. He sings several new hits in the film, which piles excitement on top of comedy when the horse wins a people's chase in unique Marxian manner.

Second feature on the program is "That I May Live," a dramatic romance set in a trailer camp locale. It features Rochelle Hudson and Robert Kent as a young married couple who cling desperately to love in the face of constant danger. They go from trailer camp to trailer camp in an effort to keep out of the hands of police until the young husband can clear himself of a trumped up murder charge.

ANTI-BALM LAW RULED VALID

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(P)—The constitutionality of New Jersey's statute outlawing "heart balm" suits was upheld today by Circuit Court Judge John C. Barbour.

The jurist ruled that under the law Mrs. Helene Buntin of Metuchen could not sue her husband's parents for $25,000 damages on the charge they alienated the affections of her husband, Henry.

Counsel for Mrs. Buntin had charged that the anti-heart balm law deprived persons of their common law rights without providing an adequate substitute, and was therefore unconstitutional.

DOCTOR FORECASTS
OAKLAND, Cal.—(American Wire)—Man will only have 12 teeth a million years from now, in the opinion of Dr. Charles A. Sweet of this city. Prehistoric man had more teeth than the modern man, who is now about to lose his wisdom teeth, he points out. Man will lose his laterals and other teeth, have a huge head and very little chin, he believes.

COUNTY MUST PREPARE FOR DROUGHTS

Stephenson Tells How Dry Spells Affected Region Years Ago

(Editor's note: This is the third of a series of articles by County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson, county historian, reviewing the damage done in Orange county in the past by storms, floods, earthquakes and similar disturbances.)

By TERRY E. STEPHENSON
County Treasurer

CONCERNING DROUGHTS

In earlier years at the missions, even in dry years, there was feed for the herds, not then great in numbers. As mission herds increased and ranches were established, dry years began to mean something in the lives of the Spaniards in California. Cattle had to eat, and grass needed rain to start it and to make it grow. While cattle-growing is no longer an outstanding industry in this section, dry spells must be counted on.

Looking through the pages of California's history, numerous reports of droughts are found, too numerous to even list in this article.

Hit Mission Crops

For instance, in 1795 crops in the mission and pueblo fields withered. The pueblo of Los Angeles was on short rations. Right here in California, there was an actual shortage of food because of drought.

The years 1800 to 1803 were dry years, but not nearly so disastrous as 1807-8-9. Most ranges were overstocked, and feed was short. Something had to be done about it. In places, it seems that what was done about it was to get rid of thousands of horses so that cattle might survive. At San Jose fully 7500 horses were driven over a bluff and were destroyed. In that way, too, Santa Barbara got rid of between 7000 and 8000 hungry horses.

The season of 1822-3 was dry enough to cause comment and distress, and soon afterward came two years of extreme drought, 1827-8-9. Cattle died by the thousands. There were other dry years thereafter as the decades passed along, with 1844-5 reported as among the most trying. No one seems to have measured rains of that time, and there is no telling whether a dry year meant a five-inch year or more or less.

Cattle Died Off
It remained, however, for the two seasons of 1862-3 to establish themselves as California's champion dry years. Cattle growing had been thriving, and ranges up and down California had been overstocked, and grass had been eaten down to bare earth before those dry seasons set in.

In the winter of 1862-3 hardly four inches of rain fell, and the showers were scattered. During the next season, with a mere trace there was hardly enough moisture to sprout the grass.

Probably no great industry in California ever suffered as did the stock industry during those two terrible years. Hundreds of thousands of cattle crowded the dried-up water holes, and died by the thousands. Cattle were too weak to be driven to market, and too thin for value. They were worth only what their hides would bring, from $2 to $2.50 apiece, less 25 cents for skinning. There were no calf crops. Every stockman lost tremendously. Don Juan Avila of San Juan Capistrano had 8000 head of cattle when the drought started, only 800 when it ended. Many rancho owners lost their property. Among them was Abel Stearns whose holdings reached from Huntington Beach and Long Beach to the San Gabriel mountains.

Pumping Adds Problem
After the '60's came other dry spells, among them 1876-8. The century ended with three dry years in a string, 1897-8 with seven inches of rain, 1898-9 with five and 1899-00 with eight.

Since 1900, the water situation has been complicated by the development of pumping with the consequent lowering of water levels. The outlook in relation to damage by a self-imposed and almost continuous drought is at most well known to need comment.

It is apparent to all who give the matter any thought at all—and there are many who seem not to have the capacity to think about it—that all available water not only should be but must be saved. History shows that California has had cycles of dry years more devastating than any cycle of dry years in the past third of a century. What has happened hitherto in weather is almost certain to happen again.

What has been done to meet the drought hazards?
A dam has been built in Santiago canyon. River water has been spread for storage under ground. The Metropolitan water district is bringing water to Southern California.

Yet, this past winter great quantities of water ran into the sea and was lost.
Plainly, there is much yet to be done if we are to profit by the study of droughts and the lowering of water levels here.

Mrs. Hauptmann Reaches Germany

BREMERHAVE, Germany. (AP) Mrs. Bruno Hauptmann, widow of the man executed for the kidnapping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, jr., arrived here yesterday from New York to visit her parents at Markgroeningen, near Stuttgart.

She said she would return to the United States and resume her efforts, with the aid of German friends, to show that her husband was not guilty of the crime for which he was electrocuted.

JOINS ACCOUNTING FIRM
A. O. Hatfield

A. O. "Hal" Hatfield today announced his entrance into the field of public accounting with offices with Wendell W. Finley, C. P. A., 400 First National bank building. Hatfield had 10 years experience as accountant and office manager for the Haven ranch in San Diego and for the past few years has served a large Japanese vegetable ranch as accountant and business advisor.

Commenting on the new associate, Finley today said, "I am very pleased to have a man of Mr. Hatfield's experience and standing in the community affiliated in my office in public accounting work. He will engage in general accounting practice, specializing in accounting for ranching and other agricultural interests. He will also assist me with my auditing engagements and thus allow me to devote more of my time to federal and state tax work."

For more than a year, Hatfield has had offices with the Santa Ana branch of Hays, Hudson and Bradstreet, general agents for New England Mutual Life Insurance company, and was engaged in field work for that organization.

Issue Ruling on Locomotive Gears

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The interstate commerce commission has directed that all steam locomotives built after next Sept. 1 should be equipped with power-operated reverse gears.

The commission, in its ruling, said locomotives of manually operated reverse gears caused "unnecessary peril to life or limb." The commission directed also that all steam locomotives used in road service which were built prior to Sept. 1, 1937, which weight on driving wheels 150,000 pounds or more, and all steam locomotives used in switching service which weigh 130,000 pounds or more, now equipped with manually-operated reverse gears, should be equipped with power-operated gears as they were placed in repair shops. All substitutions must be made before Sept. 1, 1942, the commission said.

It ordered that when steam connections to air-operated power reverse gears were used, the operating valve should be located in the engine cab, and so arranged that in case of air failure, steam could be used quickly to operate the reverse gear.

To Face Charge Of Killing Wife

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Archie Johnson, 32, metal worker, is held without bail for trial June 23 on a charge of murdering his wife, Nadine, mother of his two children.

He is accused of entering a cocktail lounge early last Decoration day and firing five bullets into her body. William Thomas Dickinson, a shoe salesman, testified at the preliminary hearing yesterday he was wounded slightly in the side by a sixth bullet in wrestling Johnson's pistol from him.

A motion by defense counsel that Johnson be certified to superior court for a sanity hearing was denied.

U. S. S. Texas to Be School Ship

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—The U. S. S. Texas, which had served nearly 23 years in the United States battle force and for a time was flagship of the fleet, is en route to Norfolk, Va., to become a navy training ship.

She and her sister craft, the New York, were the last two battleships built before the World war and the latter has been in service as a training vessel for some time. The Texas was attached to the allied fleet in the North sea during the World war.

She carried 1600 officers and men, including 600 transfer to North Atlantic stations.

Most Of Navy Men Married

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—More than half of the enlisted personnel of the United States navy is married, the fourth national convention of Navy Mothers' Clubs were told by Chaplain Thornton Miller of the naval air station in San Diego.

The chaplain said that with married men now dominating the service, "it is essential that the navy revise its pay schedules and subsistence allowances."

'Hello Girls' Go Back to Job After Winning More Wages

Girl, 12, Tries Extortion Plot

SEATTLE. (AP)—O. K. Bodie, chief criminal deputy sheriff, revealed a 12-year-old girl and not a gang of criminals made telephone attempts Wednesday to extort $5000 from P. T. Lee, operating superintendent of the North Coast bus lines, on a threat to kidnap one of Lee's three children.

He added the case was solved, the girl, a neighbor's child, will not be arrested and her name not disclosed. He said prosecution would gain nothing.

WARREN, Ohio. (AP)—Telephones jangled again as 87 operators called off their strike, went back to their switchboards here with pay raises and began to ask for your number—and more nickels.

For eight hours Wednesday the operators, demanding wage increases totalling $24,000 a year, paraded in a jocular mood in front of the Warren Telephone Co. building while some 10,000 receivers hung lifeless on their hooks.

The operators, members of the Electrical Workers' Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, received increases totalling $12,000, retroactive to June 1.

Blind Pastor Wins Balm Suit

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A blind Spiritualist pastor and astrologist, Dr. Warren Final, was victor today in a $30,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Addie Mae Pool, grey haired widow.

Superior Judge Walter S. Gates, holding that Mrs. Pool was "not convincing in her claims against Dr. Final," granted judgment in behalf of the defendant. The court held, however, that a contract between Dr. Final and Mrs. Pool was valid. The agreement called for payment of $25 monthly to Mrs. Pool by the pastor.

The New river in Virginia is the oldest river in North America.

Pickets Think the Shriners in Regalia 'Scab' Waiters

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Police were called and words flew fast when striking hotel workers sought to stop a dozen San Jose Shriners from entering a hotel here yesterday.

The Shriners came here to put on degree work at Islam Temple. Douglas Harrison, manager of the Gaylord hotel, offered them rooms to change to uniforms.

After donning the regalia, the lodge members went to the temple and held their ritual, then returned to the hotel. They encountered about 40 pickets who mistook them for "strike breaking" waiters.

A general row started and it re-

Plan Fast Train Through Spain

HENDAYE (Franco-Spanish Border) (AP)—Officials of the French-Spanish-Portuguese rail road decided today to run a fast train through Spain without stopping.

Service on the Paris-Hendaye-Lisbon line, interrupted since the start of the civil war, will be resumed, but the engines will just whistle at the Spanish stations along the way. No tickets will be sold to them.

If one shallow irrigation well does not give a sufficient water supply, then several such wells should be installed in a straight line about 40 or 50 feet apart.

LONG BEACH. (AP)—An entertainment schedule for the State Fair at Sacramento Sept. 3 to 12 costing $30,000 was approved here yesterday by the board of directors. Secretary-Manager Robert Mueckler announced.

The board, by custom, holds its June meeting at Rancho Los Alamitos near here.

"One of the spectacular numbers will be Smith's diving ponies," Mueckler said.

"Others will include Jiggs, the movie monkey, the Blender's Quartet, the Six Candeva Brothers, trumpet players, Lottie Mayer's disappearing water ballet and Bob Eugene troupe of acrobats.

"We plan a special portable stage for the presentation of this entertainment."

McNutt's 'Fun' Account Pruned

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house appropriations committee has wielded a pruning knife on a proposed $10,000 "entertainment fund" for Paul V. McNutt, high commissioner to the Philippines.

Six Dogs Plus One Cat Produce One Good Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Once upon a time there were six dogs and one cat.

Now there are six dogs and one lawsuit.

They complained the Rices' six dogs were "arrogant, domineering and dogmatic," and that said dogs entered the Christensen premises, last May 15, pounced upon and killed their cat which was "friendly and affectionate."

CHURCH ABUSES HIT BY POPE

VATICAN CITY. (AP)—The congregation of the Holy Office has instructed bishops over the world to correct abuses in the forms of Catholic worship and to stop the development of any such abuses in the future.

The announcement did not mention what specific abuses were referred to, but it stated that not all instructions were being obeyed and that some practices had grown up which invited the criticism of non-Catholics.

Prelates explained the abuses were more of an internal nature than one of general public interest.

The announcement recalled the rules of worship established in the Council of Trent (the 18th ecumenical council of the church which was held between the years of 1545 and 1563). It cited also the various rulings of Pope Pius IX.

FOURTH OF VETS HOLDING BONDS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Treasury reports disclosed today that about one-fourth of the veterans who received bonus bonds a year ago still are holding them.

It was on June 16, 1936, that postmen started handing out the bonds. Within two weeks, the ex-service men sent $744,235,500 of the obligations back to the government in exchange for cash.

Up to last Saturday, the treasury reported, it had issued $1,808,281,150 of the bonds to about 3,000,000 veterans. Of the bonds $1,404,105,750, or about 77 per cent, had been exchanged for cash.

MAY SEND SHIP TO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The navy announced it was considering sending the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the American squadron in Asiatic waters, on an official visit to Soviet Russia's strategic seaport of Vladivostok.

Naval officers said they long have favored such a gesture of international good will.

The Augusta is a 10,000 ton cruiser completed in 1931, and carries a crew of 500 men and 50 officers.

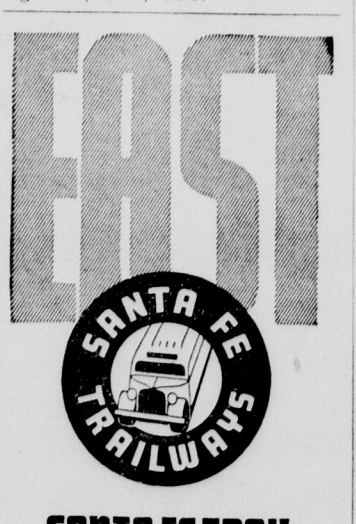

The last United States naval vessel to call at Vladivostok was the gunboat Sacramento, in 1923.

Farm Tenancy Bill Revised

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house agriculture committee yesterday approved a revised farm tenancy bill authorizing an appropriation of $10,000,000 for liberal loans to tenants and sharecroppers in 1938. A previously approved measure, which met opposition in the rules committee, would have authorized $50,000,000.

The new bill retained a provision authorizing an appropriation of $10,000,000 in 1938 for purchase and retirement of submarginal land from cultivation. Authorization for farm home purchase loans were stepped up to $25,000,000 in 1939 and $50,000,000 in 1940.

Willard, played an exceptionally good match, and the Lathrop team of mixed doubles had to play a hard game to win, the scores ending 11-8; 9-11; 11-9.

Start Drive on Relief Chiselers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A new drive to remove "chiselers" from federal relief projects here will be undertaken by 295 investigators, starting July 7.

Approximately 50,000 persons, employed in the federal music, theater, art and writers' projects, and in the regular works progress administration, will be examined regarding their claim for public support.

Clayton Triggs, director of the Los Angeles County Relief administration, will head the investigation. He said a sample check of 870 WPA cases recently showed 285 were not entitled to job relief, and dismissals resulted.

Mud stains on clothes, if the fabric is not washable, sometimes may be removed by sponging with denatured alcohol.

GRAPE OUTPUT ON INCREASE

DEL MONTE. (AP)—Wine and grape production is fast becoming one of California's greatest industries and may soon overshadow citrus, oil and gold, speakers declared at the fourth annual conference of 30 California industries related to the grape and wine industry.

At a conference, sponsored by California State Chamber of Commerce, Robert D. Rossi, wine institute speaker, forecast consumption of one and one-half gallons per capita of wine within a few years, which would mean a little more than triple the present consumption.

He pointed out that California and Louisiana have already passed the gallon and one-half mark, that Oregon, Washington and Colorado

BRICK DUST

and THERE
with
T. N.
(Brick)
GAINES

There's room for argument in a recent news dispatch from Los Angeles.

This story confidently states that a federal appropriation is going to make the finest yacht harbor in the world from Alamitos bay.

Heh! When we already have it at Newport!

In the first place, Alamitos bay is too skinny. Not enough room for large boats. In fact, the only type of races they've ever had there are for snowbirds or other tiny craft and for outboard motor-boats.

Its only possible claim to fame would be that it's situated closer to the metropolitan district than Newport. And that doesn't make much difference these days!

They'd better see how many customers they can get before making any claims for their proposed yachting center!

Which reminds of something else somewhat obnoxious. You might remember about three weeks ago we came out with a story about the first time of the season being caught at Newport.

Last week they made a big splash in the L. A. papers. First time of the season! Whoops! Hurrah for Los Angeles!

Phooey on them guys!

While we're peering at the harbor, it might be well to remark on the big celebration again.

I don't mean the Tournament of Lights. The Balboa Island sea wall celebration. It's really going to be a honey, and if you're looking for something to do in the afternoon, pop down for a good time!

Dr. Seager and Jimmy Watkins are running in all directions making plans for the affair. The treasurer Hunt promises to be a mad scramble—I overheard talk on preliminary plans for the affair the other day, and it sounds awfully interesting.

In addition, there's to be an attack by pirates. Bunch of gals will be held for ransom, or something. It seems to be sort of secret. Then there'll be bathing girls and all sorts of a parade and dancing and tea parties and speeches 'n everything.

C'mon down, y'all like it!

Midway City-ites are getting ambitious again.

They're the do-in-eat people, anyway. If they want a fire hall, they don't ask Uncle Sam or anyone else outside for help. Just go about their own business raising money.

It's the same way this time. They want street lights for crossings on First street. Are they screaming and yowling for help? Nope. Instead they're going to stage a benefit and raise their own money.

And it seems the legislature didn't do much for local portmen. Except approve Senator Young's bill prohibiting sale of Marlin swordfish meat. That'n will help somewhat. But I note that Assemblyman Watson's preserve bill is listed among those which met defeat.

The salmon were helped out by the legislature. The deer and trout and pheasants received aid, but not very much was done for we're like to go boating.

About the only thing the legislature did was to include white sea bass, kelp bass, scallops and jack-knife clams under the classification of sport fish, so you'll need a license to take 'em. Before they weren't considered worthy of a license.

And they passed a bill offered by the sportsman's friend (?) Assemblyman Hornblower from San Francisco. He suggests that the fish and game commission can kill seals and sea lions in a humane manner, whenever it's necessary—in their judgment. To keep the supply, he claimed, under proper control.

That'n will make Fire Chief Frank Crocker at Newport unhappy! He likes seals and hates to bury 'em!

Needing just about one more paragraph to fill out this column, I asked Skinny for an idea. His remarks about where to tell everyone to go are hardly printable.

He promised to thing up something, but hasn't come back, so we'll just have to stop, sort of, without even any apologies!

THREE-POINT RULE OF COUNTRY URGED BY GRANGE HEAD

TABOR TALKS AT ANAHEIM MEETING

500 Hear Addresses By State and National Farm Leaders

ANAHEIM.—Rural life will suffer unless the farmer "increases his bargaining power" comparable to labor's gain by the Wagner Act, Master Louis J. Tabor of the National Grange, said in an address here last night.

Speaking to more than 500 representatives of all Granges in Southern California, Tabor said that farmers must fight to hold their own in a battle with capital and labor. "Instead of capital and labor ruling, it must be a three-point rule, with agriculturists taking their part," he said.

State Master George Sehlmeier explained legislation approved at the recent session of the assembly and senate, pointing out bills which affect the farmer. Other speakers were Ray Gill, state master from Oregon and member of the national executive committee, and James Freestone, New York, also a member of the national executive group. They both discussed national aspects of the Grange movement.

Delegates from Granges in San Bernardino, Los Angeles, San Diego and Riverside counties and the Mojave valley attended the session, and all county officers were present. ## DR. POLYZOIDES ADDRESSES ORANGE ROTARY CLUB

ORANGE.—Dr. Adamantio T. Polyzoides, New York news commentator and radio speaker, told of the European situation as observed between the years 1917 and 1937—when he spoke before the Rotary club yesterday noon.

The speaker said that two principles were followed after the war, one put forward by the diplomats who felt that the war gave them a chance to make over the map of Europe, and the other by the idealists who thought the unpleasantness was a war to end wars. As a result all documents of peace have been shattered and the League of Nations is in a pigeon hole, he added.

He said Europe is now suffering from nationalism, and cited Spain as a bleeding example of that mistake. The only hope for Spain, he continued, is the alliance of Great Britain and Germany, who could together work out a peace.

W. O. Hart was program chairman. A card received from Nels Edwards traveling in Europe, said that he is sailing today from Mexico, on the return itinerary of his trip.

Three new members, Roy M. Buckles, W. H. Lowry and Park Walker, were welcomed into the club by Dr. Robert B. McAulay.

Residents of Tampa, Fla., consume more than two tons of macaroni daily.

can stand the loss from this feature in order to gain the bond business, wire him as soon as possible.

"Also write us by return mail as to figure we can quote on the bond premium. Due to its unusual size and character, this would not come under our regular contract bond rate."

"The engineer paused. 'Sound okay?'"

"Okay," Blount agreed, and added, "Gad, I hope we get this business. Northcutt wants us to have it. But other members of his firm are favorable to the Great American. They'll cut our throats if they get a chance."

"Going to be tough on Chet Brownell if they do," the engineer mused. "By the way, what's the matter with that chap? He looks terrible and I never saw a fellow so nervous. He..."

Patty Lou pondered what Dale's father would look like—wondered if she would ever see Dale again. Her heart pounded furiously. She struck a "h" instead of an "h" and told herself not to think of Dale. She was a girl fated to work and work hard, as this day had so cruelly proved. But it took all her will power to concentrate.

WHEN Mr. Blount and the engineer returned, she had the letters finished.

"Good girl," the engineer approved, after he signed them. "I won't forget this."

He stopped abruptly, looking toward the door, and said to Blount, "Here's Northcutt."

Patty Lou turned and, suddenly her face flamed. It was Dale Northcutt who had come into the office, Dale!

He didn't seem to notice Mr. Blount or the engineer as he came straight toward her and took her hand in his.

"Patty Lou! I'm glad to see you again. I..."

Mr. Blount cleared his throat loudly.

"We expected your father, Northcutt, but I suppose you've come in his place, to talk about the bond."

"Exactly," Dale replied, turning reluctantly from Patty Lou to the men.

"In my office. This way," said Blount.

DALE, watching Patty Lou cover her typewriter, suddenly laughed if they do."

"Oh, bother that bond business—I'm going to take the stenographer home!"

"Oh, no! But thank you," Patty Lou said.

The hurt that had throbbed in her throat all day magically disappeared. Her weariness was gone. Her eyes were shining.

"Indeed, yes," Dale said firmly. "You can wait just ten or fifteen minutes, can't you? Please, Patty Lou! My car is in front of the building, and I'd like to take you home—want to talk to you."

"Certainly Miss Palmer will wait," Mr. Blount said suavely.

Patty Lou hesitated. Marcell would hate her more than ever for this—but perhaps Marcell would never know. What should she do?

BALBOA ISLAND SEA WALL DEDICATION SET FOR TOMORROW

PARADE WILL BE FEATURE OF EVENT

BALBOA ISLAND.—Imposing ceremonies, with many city officials taking part, a huge parade and many other interesting events are planned for tomorrow on Balboa Island for formal dedication of the $200,000 seawall, for which the program will open at 1 p. m., J. D. Watkins, in charge of the affair, has announced.

Main speakers at the dedication will be Mayor Harry H. Williamson, City Engineer R. L. Patterson and his assistant, John Siegel. The ceremony will be held at 3 p. m. at East Bay and Park avenue.

Opening the afternoon's festivities will be swimming races for boys and girls on North Bay between Ruby and Sapphira avenues. Ten races have been arranged by the committee in charge and will be open to tries from six to 18 years of age.

Immediately following the swimming events, two kayak races will be held around the island, starting and finishing at Ruby avenue. One class is for entries under 15 years of age and the other 18 years. The official dedication will follow the kayak events.

After the dedication a grand parade will form at Park avenue and East Bay front, then to Marine avenue, thence to North Bay front, east around the island to Marine and South Bay front, where it will disband.

Seven divisions have been planned for the event, with the first section reserved for children with their pets. "White Pirates" will follow, and the third section will include comics. The fourth will include fancy dress and the fifth original make-up, with the sixth to include bathing girls and the seventh merchants' entries.

Immediately afterward an island-wide treasure hunt has been planned, with maps to be given out to all participants by the committee in charge. Treasures will be hidden at many spots over the island, and entries in the parade will be given the first maps with instructions for locating the hidden valuables.

At 7:30 p. m. prizes will be awarded winners of all events at Marine and South Bay front and a street dance will follow. In addition, strolling troubadours, tea parties and refreshment booths have been arranged. Athletic stunts at several spots around the seawall and many other entertainment features are scheduled for the afternoon and evening.

FIREWORKS FUSS FIZZLES

Legion to Have Cracker Party

LAGUNA BEACH.—Although the city won't give the American Legion a donation toward a Fourth of July fireworks display, the legion's getting $100 to use for any patriotic celebration they want to give.

It sounds all very complicated, but when the city fathers denied the legion's request for fireworks money and Councilman Charles Jester held the majority of the town business folk didn't want any cracklings, poppings, or blinding flashes of light around to distract from business, legion representatives complained that it was too bad Laguna couldn't oblige the Fourth in the customary patriotic way.

The council finally smilingly bestowed the "boys"—as the city fathers called the legion—with the cash to spend any way the "boys" saw fit. Councilman Jester's suggestion that a space be roped off on the beach where children—or the old folks—could shoot off fireworks between the starting hours of 8 a. m. and 10 p. m.

"We'll give you the money, boys," Mayor Mallow said, "but I'm still against fireworks!" The city council hopes that restricting cracker-popping and skyrockets sizzling to the beach area will help the police department.

Since there are laws to prevent any shooting of fireworks within the city, in Fourth past the officers have to speed about the town full force, all day long, taking bushels of crackers and other inflammable material away from little boys and girls.

LAGUNA COUNCIL FAILS TO ACT ON CIVIC CENTER

LAGUNA BEACH.—The city council filed the chamber of commerce "civic center" resolution at its meeting Wednesday night, without taking any action. This came as a surprise to the chamber.

Although the chamber's resolution had asked that the city immediately buy remaining portions of the proposed civic center triangle between Park avenue and First street or else start condemnation proceedings, the council—as expressed by Mayor L. F. Mallow—wished further opinion from the public as to purchasing the property.

The proposed "night patrol" ordinance became a law last night, passing its third reading, with Mayor Mallow the only dissenting vote. More than 15 weeks ago, Capt. Don Wilkie, criminologist and former secret service operative, applied for a business license to operate a merchant's protective patrol. His license was held in abeyance with the emergency drafting of a patrol-regulatory ordinance.

After many discussions between Wilkie and the council, certain restrictive features of the ordinance either were amended or omitted completely. The ordinance passed last night is the third to come up for a third and final reading.

After hearing a sizable petition from Coast boulevard and Ocean avenue merchants and property owners, who, anticipating installation of parking meters in front of their places of business, protested vigorously, the city council left action on meters hanging in the air.

Heeding protests from Forrest street and First street, the council at its last meeting instructed City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey to prepare bid and specification forms for meters on Coast boulevard and Ocean avenue. Last night, however, a motion that meters be given no consideration at this time was passed unanimously.

DREDGING AT SUBDIVISION HARBOR IS FINISHED

NEWPORT-BALBOA. Final touches were being added to the latest step in developing the outstanding yacht harbor on the coast here today, as dredgers finished deepening a portion of the bay west of The Arches intersection.

Cost of the work was estimated at $7000 by City Engineer R. L. Patterson, who said that about 17,000 cubic yards of material was moved during the work. Dredged material was placed on the ocean-front to replace sand washed away by tides.

The new project opens up about 2400 feet of the bay west of the turning basin directly east of the new overhead crossing. A depth of six feet at low tide was required of the Newport Dredging company, in charge of the work, Patterson said.

The subdivision is on very high ground, covering an area the addition of which to the water district would take Laguna's water supply, it was claimed. Just what steps will be taken to assure a sufficient supply for the subdivision have not been revealed.

LAGUNA BEACH.—When maps showing new subdivision plans at the southernmost limits of the city were submitted to the council this week, only conditional approval was given the plans.

The council approved the subdivision with the exception of the available water supply. Council members pointed out that the Laguna Beach water district could not adequately take care of the district, and that dangers of water shortage were possible.

ART FIESTA PRIZE IS AWARDED

LAGUNA BEACH.—From more than 20 letters brimming with art festival theme ideas received by the Festival board this week, Mrs. Leslie Kimmell with her "Spirit of Laguna" won the contest.

The board has decided the theme now chosen will entail a stress on art and handicraft products for which Laguna is noted, their being several pottery craftsmen and woodcarving industries within the city.

Frank Heckman, nationally known commercial artist, has been selected to contact artists and art groups of Southern California, asking them to visit the festival in a body on specified days to be set aside in their honor. Mrs. Lewis H. Turner has already formulated plans for the festival's dramatic program.

The festival will be held July 30 to August 7 on the women's club grounds on Third street, and Roy M. Ropp is laying out building positions on the grounds. The Women's clubhouse will be used as the exhibition place for pictures hung during the festival.

SUPERMAN

Ever since Nietzsche, the famous German philosopher, propounded his doctrine of the "Superman," it has been the subject of hot debate.

Briefly, it seems to suggest a tearing down of civilization's bulwarks of charity and kindness, offering in place of these a plan to produce a world of supermen by means of the trampling down of the lowly and the weak-spirited. Ruthlessness, strength and pride were offered as the cardinal virtues of his teachings.

Nietzsche, himself, fell far short of his ideal, the "superman." A professor of the University of Basel, he was forced to retire by ill health. Wandering from health resort to health resort, the philosopher eventually went insane. He died in 1900.

Dear Judge:
Has there ever been a policeman with feet as flat as policemen's feet are supposed to be?

ELLA B.
Patrolman Zip Smith of Whittier has feet so flat that he doesn't have to carry a gun. When he starts chasing a thief, the slap of his shoes on the pavement sounds like an automatic pistol, and nine times out of ten the thief gives up.

U. S. Wise to Intervene in Strike

SHARP awakening of Madame Perkins as indicated by the intervention of the federal government in the steel strike crisis may have come just in time to prevent the greatest industrial war in American history.

For the strike was being pushed and resisted with a blind stubbornness on both sides that indicated a pell-mell rush toward bloodshed.

The amazing feature was that it developed in a period when unprecedented progress had just been made in labor relations through the Wagner act. The act, sustaining the right to collective bargaining, had just been upheld by the supreme court and great companies such as United States Steel, General Motors and Chrysler had signed contracts.

Only a technical question separated the Republic Steel company, Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, and their striking employees—the question of signing a union contract such as had already been signed by many of the biggest firms in the nation.

Higher wages and better hours were not the point at issue, in this strike, at least.

But the steel companies had already recognized the unions in effect when they offered to deal with them collectively up to the final point of contract—so the actual difference was really extremely narrow.

Weight of the federal government and its mediation board will go far, we hope, to eliminate this difference and remove the stubbornness which is retarding national recovery and plunging great sections of the people into conflict.

Hollywood expects soon to make all its pictures in color, so it will be the first to know when a picture is going into the red.

Public Employees to Get Raises, Too

HIGHER pay is ahead for both city and county employees now in the lower income brackets, according to word from local officials.

Mayor Rowland says that some changes and advances in salaries will be made on the municipal staff of 180 workers; and Supervisor Mitchell reveals that he has engaged a firm of accountants to aid in the re-classification of county workers.

The cost of living is rising, and salaries in other lines are going up to offset it. Naturally, these pay boosts must be made where they are needed among public servants, too.

It is important, however, that our officials adjust other civil expenses not affecting payrolls directly so that the salary advances are not reflected too sharply in the budget.

It is apparent that the Nazis don't like Hollywood war films except when they show Germany winning in the last reel.

Another Old Magazine Passes On

With the demise of the Literary Digest through its purchase by the Reviews of Reviews, the second historic American magazine this year passes out of the picture. The first was the humorous journal Life which was taken from the comic category and transformed into a picture publication.

The Literary Digest's prestige suffered a fatal blow last November when its highly touted poll forecast the election of Landon over Roosevelt in defiance of all other indications. It is surprising that it held on as long as it did after this major flop.

The old Digest had many good things about it, however. These better qualities should be preserved in the Review of Reviews.

War debt day reminds us of Father's day. Nobody pays any attention to it.

Travel Time in the West

IT WAS the automobile that made us a travel-conscious people, but trains, ships and planes are cashing in this year on the golden harvest of touring.

Many folks who have not had a real vacation for many years are already starting to pack for a long, restful jaunt into neighboring states or neighboring countries.

There is something about our high-gear, nervous modern life that requires a periodic mental rest. Nothing is more restful to the average human than travel—new places and new activities. Incidentally, nothing is more educational.

Why have Father's day on Sunday? Hardly anyone gets paid then.

Safety Drive Works at Home

OUT of 10 motorists fined for speeding by City Judge John Mitchell Tuesday, nine were from out of town. Only one was a Santa Ana driver.

There may be several explanations for the fact that the ratio between out-of-town and local drivers was 9 to 1.

But one logical reason seems to be that Santa Ana motorists are aware that police mean business in the current safety campaign and they are obeying the traffic rules.

Theme song for the old-fashioned wife: "Home on the Range."

Calling All Automobile Drivers

WITH millions of carefree children who have just been dismissed from school for the summer months running loose at play, it is up to all drivers to be exceptionally careful.

Orange county's ghastly traffic death rate is already at an all-time high.

Let's not make it worse with the blood of those innocent little ones.

Thoughts while strolling: Swell autobiography "Before I Forget" by Al Smith made a big mistake in seeing Paris after 50. Paris should be taken on around 21, when one is desperately in love and just a little bit broke. Paree! Paree!

Bowling comes back with—no pun intended—a bang. All the alleys jammed and new ones everywhere. Ed Wynn looks flustered on the verge of shrieking even off stage. Marlene Dietrich as a siren is a country boy's idea of city wickedness.

Those flashy Broadway haberdashers known as Marty, Eddie or Danny. Girls who try to imitate Katharine Hepburn's flat, metallic talk. When my ship comes in, I'm going to hire a light-fingered Eddy Duchin to improvise on the piano while I rock on the front porch.

Rhyme: Always a quorum to cheer for Bill Corum. Still leaders in the bushy eyebrow sweepstakes: Messrs. Kendall, Royal, Copeland and Lee Olwell. Personal rating for song writers: No. 1 Jerome Kern, No. 2 Irving Berlin, No. 3 Vincent Youmans. Biggest let-down in baseball build-ups: Bob Feller.

Wolcott Gibbs thinks Benay Venuta sounds like something to rub on a stiff neck. That forlorn picket who still patrols in front of "No. 21." The gagsters say to keep Heywood Brown away.

It is good news for Broadway sentimentalists that Gus Edwards has clicked with a radio program on the coast. A program stressing his school-day vaudeville theme. His "School Days" tune is a popular song classic that has endured for 30 years. It has been well chronicled that Edwards' reviews cradled many stars. Such as George Jessel, Groucho Marx, Joe Laurie, Jr., Lila Lee, Eddie Buzzell, George Price and Eddie Cantor. He rode the high tide until suddenly there developed a sudden shrink from sentiment and anything that suggested crinolines.

And Edwards found himself no longer in the chips at an age past 60 and growing grayer. But, always the actor, he strutted the Rialto, smiled and spoke of vague annuities soon due. Many heard whispers and offered financial aid which he loftily spurned. So now again he has emerged into a little sunlight of success and the hoofers, song and dance men and the like "on the beach" in front of the Palace have taken new hope. If Gus Edwards can come back at his age—how much greater is his chance of vaulting the hurdle!

And chivvying up a flock of old-time laughs in contrast to the more modern guffaws, I have never forgotten the titles of some of the old Keynote comedies. There was one about a pair of aspiring and goofy authors and the movie was the enactment of their script. When things began to buzz in the act there flashed on the screen this line: "At this point the story got beyond the author's control."

Kismet: I met the poet John Dryden on his last visit here, at Fannie Hurst's. Conversation somehow swung around the gruesome subject of death, in which as I recall Bob Davis, Daniel Frohman and several others joined. Drinkwater said, among other things: "I think all poets should go out in their sleep." And that was how he "went out" several weeks ago.

As an ex-puddle jumper, most of the "I'll swan stuff" heard on the radio sounds as though it might be some spotted Landon club actors trying to play country jake. A notable exception is the drawing palaver of those Ozarkians known as Lum and Abner. All of us have heard the same intonations and pronouncements up the holler and back in the Landon crotches. I'm on the fence too about Judy, Ann and Zeke Canova being the real hill billy articles. But there has never been any doubt about the Weaver Brothers and Elvira in vaudeville. They are pure, unalloyed jaspers.

There was the morning a dispirited group sat out in front of my father's hotel with the miseries. It was right after the St. Louis cyclone and there had been a drought and crops were withered. Just then a Happy Jack swung by, said, among other things: "I know what you fellows are going to do, but I'm goin' fishin'!"

WASHINGTON.—President Taft today vetoed the army appropriation bill. He returned the measure to congress with a message indicating his disapproval of the legislative provision which would oust Major-General Leonard Wood from the office of chief of staff on next March 4.

One hundred and 50 men from the unskilled labor to the skilled mechanic, are working on the finishing touches of the new sugar factory of the Santa Ana Cooperative Sugar company. Workmen are busy on all floors and the factory could be put into operation in three weeks if it were necessary. However, it probably will be the first of August before the plant is started.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of Los Angeles yesterday delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon before the high school class, taking for his subject "Religion and Friendship." Judge Wilbur referred to the present struggle for leadership of the Republican party and predicted that before long the principals in the strife will look back with regret to the severing of friendship.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—One of the most significant undercover battles now being waged in the nation's capital is the Wall street drive to put across George C. Mathews as chairman of the securities and exchange commission.

The drive is as intensive and bitter as it is secret. It is aimed primarily against William O. Douglas, adamant foe of Wall street and the only man, in addition to Commissioner Robert E. Healy, who has had the nerve to buck the brokers during these days of "don't-rock-the-boat" prosperity.

Mathews, Wall street knows, is safe. He has proved it many times. He favored the adulteration of SEC registration forms. He sided with the New York curb exchange in its fight against the small exchanges. He always has been found on the reactionary side during any split of the commission.

Once he was indiscreet enough to remark to a reporter that he was opposed to the Holding Company Act, a pet bill of the President's. The remark obviously was important news, and the newspaper man was about to publish it.

But members of the SEC, learning of his impending publication, headed it off. Subsequently they gave the newspaper man a job in the publicity section of the SEC.

Mathews comes from Wisconsin, is Republican, red-faced, and wears a blue-brimmed, almost sombrero hat. His nickname, "Tubby," derives from a pet girl. He has a gnome-like head, a belt that looks like a spliced cable, is married, and is fond of golf.

He has an excellent technical equipment, knows the securities business, but is left to his own inclinations always to be found on the side of big business.

SECRET WIRE-PULLING If the President has been wondering why Pennsylvania Congressmen should write him urging the appointment of Senator Joe Robinson to the supreme court vacancy, he can find the answer right in his personal staff.

White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre secretly inspired the Pennsylvania Democrats asking them, as a personal favor, to write to the President endorsing Robinson.

What was behind McIntyre's extraordinary action was not indicated. It is not known whether it means that Robinson is not the sure-fire bet for the place that he thinks he is, and that McIntyre is secretly trying to help him by putting pressure on the President.

So far only seven of the Pennsylvanians have responded to McIntyre's appeal. Each received a letter from Secretary Steve Early saying that the President had read their communication and would give it "earnest consideration."

HALL OF FAME Tourists who have the wind and the leg muscles to climb the long, winding stair to the dome of the Capitol, 250 feet above the Plaza level, find there a motley assortment of names scrawled on the rough walls.

Conspicuous among them, in the large letters of a boyish scrawl, is the name "James Roosevelt."

And next to that name appears the legend: "Vote for Landon."

HUGHES' PARTNER Richard E. Dwight, prominent New York corporation lawyer and former partner of Chief Justice Hughes, is a principal in one of the cases brought before the congressional tax-evasion investigating committee by the treasury. His case was also one of those anonymously cited by the President in his message to congress demanding the probe.

The present name of Dwight's law firm is Hughes, Schurman & Dwight. When Mr. Hughes left it to become chief justice, the name of the firm was Hughes, Rounds, Schurman & Dwight. The present Hughes in the partnership is the chief justice's son, Charles Evans, Jr., who is solicitor general under Hoover until his father ascended the bench.

Dwight's case has been hanging fire in the internal revenue bureau for several years. In recent months he has made a number of trips to Washington in an effort to settle it. The basis of the government's case is these claims:

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

TOWNSEND RECOVERY PLAN

To the Editor: Twelve national officials of the Townsend organization have resigned, with a statement that they were not in accord with Dr. Charles E. Townsend's activity in using money, contributed in the Townsend organization, to oppose "legislation proposed by the President which has no bearing on the Townsend plan."

They include: J. W. Brinton, vice president and general manager; Gilmore Young, secretary-treasurer; W. L. Stahl, editor of Townsend Weekly; Jeanne E. Sweeney, editor of Townsend Weekly woman's page; T. W. Hughes, manager of education department; P. M. McCoy, chairman of Townsend legislative committee. The reported alienation of congressional support is even more serious.

Incidentally, it was reported that Blair Coan, formerly political lieutenant of Harry M. Daugherty, was advising Dr. Townsend.

The solidarity of the Townsend movement suggests avoiding such temporary and highly controversial issues as supreme court reform, but if it took any interest at all therein, it is evident, it should favor and not oppose court reorganization.

The personnel of and decisions by the supreme court indicate that aged conservative members thereof would vote to invalidate any Townsend pension bill, and that the proposed reformation of the court would tend to neutralize their beneficial influence.

Congressman Celler, a conservative Democrat from New York, in a nationwide broadcast this spring, indicated as his reason for opposing court reform his distrust of congressmen and his belief that the supreme court as then existing, would disapprove of what he called "the ridiculous Townsend plan."

Impartial polls in the Pacific coast states, the home of the Townsend recovery movement, indicate a majority favor the President's court reform proposal, which is remarkable, for the region has been subjected to a barrage of false propaganda against supreme court reform, similar to that which other parts of the country have been exposed to.

And numerous public characters of national prominence have been ruined, and the principles they stood for discredited, by political ineptitude.

A conspicuous example was W. H. Taft. He was a high-class man, experienced, competent and interested in the public welfare, and would have made a good President, but for his lack of political acumen, and inability to correctly judge men. His undoing resulted from permitting sinister figures like Senators Aldrich, Penrose, Cram and Warren to persuade him that they were interested in his personal success and in national prosperity, when he should have listened to the advice of earnest and patriotic men like Theodore Roosevelt and Senators Delivered, Burton, Borah and Brandegee. His appointing Willis Van Devanter to the supreme court, at the instance of the above named reactionary senators, is an illustration.

An intimate friend of Taft once said that if as president he inspected a penitentiary, he would likely as not sit down in the electric chair.

Dr. Townsend is of exalted character and of humanitarian impulses. He is beloved by his followers, the revolving pension plan has been indelibly associated with his name, and it would be a misfortune if the benefits of his name, his leadership and cooperation were lost, but it is apparent that if the movement is to attain its maximum efficiency as a national organization, its policies should be controlled by a national board of council, of which Dr. Townsend would be the logical chairman.

SHARPLESS WALKER. Santa Ana.

NEED FIRE EXITS

To the Editor: You know, I read about that wreck at First and Yerxa and went out to look over, talked with some of the people out there and heard how several barely escaped through a back door.

Now as I came back I noticed several stations without a back door. Such an accident may never happen again, but in this age of gasoline and speed it may be a good idea for the city or county to amend their building ordinances to include rear exits in all filling stations.

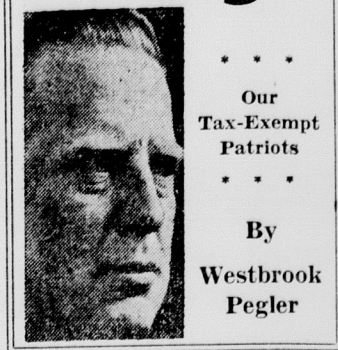

They are generally pretty good on "must do" or "cannot do" and should jump at the chance.

Also I read, "Is President Roosevelt or John L. Lewis the boss?" from Re. Hoffman. Heck, a hundred thousand people have asked that. What he should do is get the answer for us.

Also this morning I saw a P. E. car held up by a parked truck. The car crew was quite sarcastic about our police department, said they were too busy with parking meters to take care of traffic matters (must be that they were in Long Beach), but they were careful what they said when he came around.

People that leave their trucks and cars on the tracks should at least have a battery that works so a cop doesn't have to crank it and end by shoving it down the street. 'At's all. SCRIBBLER.

FAIR Enough

Our Tax-Exempt
Patriots

By Westbrook
Pegler

WASHINGTON.—As a preliminary to the congressional investigation of moral and civil delinquency on the part of persons who pay no more than their legal dues under the income tax, the house of representatives has turned down a bill which would have imposed a local income tax on the boys, themselves.

The District of Columbia faces a deficit of $6,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, and a small income tax was proposed, among other measures, to meet the problem. This bill would have taxed the congressmen and their secretaries, clerks and political appointees residing in Washington, and indignant cries rang through the historic halls of the sacred heritage on capitol hill.

Incidentally, the secretaries and clerks in some cases are more or less needy relatives or political liabilities of the statesmen, who might otherwise require whole or partial support out of the members' own pay of $10,000 a year, plus mileage and perquisites. It is a less burdensome to support a wife, a no-good cousin or an indigent brother-in-law afflicted with chronic fatigue, on government pay, as a secretary or clerk, than to meet the loved one's need direct, out of the $10,000 a year plus mileage and perquisites.

20 CENTS A MILE The statesmen get an allowance of 20 cents a mile for their travel, but it is earnestly suggested that no moral or civil delinquent among the tax-paying class be charged that much in computing his costs of calling on the customers. The internal revenue department would defy him to cite any railroad, plane or omnibus line in the country which charges 20 cents a mile for travel, and might indict him for attempting to rob the deserving poor.

The internal revenue also would look extremely askance at any return which named the wife, no-good cousin or indigent brother-in-law of the tax payer as his secretary or clerk, and require him to show cause. Members of congress, however, are not required to prove that their travel costs 20 cents a mile, and there are some who contend that a statesman, driving his own flivver, sleeping in four-bit flops and subsisting on hot dogs along the road, can travel for as little as a nickel a mile, including tips.

As for the employment of wives, no-good cousins and indigent brother-in-laws as secretaries and clerks, custom and the moral and civil conscience of the statesmen, long ago provided the closed of legality. So the issue is closed.

A TAX-EXEMPT PATRIOT All the congressmen and their office employees, including relatives, as well as their political liabilities holding government jobs, are exempt from the income taxes of their respective states. However, Mr. Dies, a sterling statesman from Texas, who took part in the successful resistance to the outrage, issued a patriotic statement for the record that he would gladly lay down his state income tax if he were not unfortunately forbidden to do so by several rulings of the federal supreme court.

Mr. Dies' heart bled openly in anguish over his constitutional incapacity to share the income tax burden of his home state of Texas, which has no state income tax anyway. Nevertheless, on principle, he declared he was not willing to submit to a local income tax to save from bankruptcy the District of Columbia, in which he spends much of his time enjoying the benefits of the police, the fire department and the street-cleaning service.

It will be seen, however, that Patriot Dies was morally and ethically pure, and in no degree unfit to sit in judgment on tax-dodgers who evade their taxes.

Another patriot who resented the proposed outrage was Congressman O'Connor, of New York, in the absence of the Rev. Father (Charlie) (Cash-and-Carry) Coughlin—threatened to kick him all the way up Pennsylvania Ave., from the capitol to the White House, but later explained that he did not mean that literally.

O'Connor's refusal to pay income tax toward the maintenance of Washington, D. C., where he reon contempt for the selfish spirit of the Washington people. He called them leeches, but owing to the regrettable limitation on debate in the house of representatives did not explain the difference between a leech and a patriot who pays no state income tax on his salary, but nevertheless enjoys the right to a state pension for federal service in a state where he pays no income tax.

With this blast, no statesmen of the house of representatives sounded the moral keynote of the inquiry into the iniquitous evasion and avoidance of income taxes.

Remarkable Remarks

Europe and the rest of the world must soon find some means of putting an end to the frenzied armaments contest or be prepared to face a crisis which might lead to war.—Benito Mussolini.
